MEDITATION SERIES

A class to understand meditation and learn simple, effective methods.

Tiffany Hunter, owner of Healing for People, a healing and energy development clinic, has a passion for bringing energy health information into people's lives that's as simple to understand and accomplish, but no less effective, than brushing teeth. Tiffany started teaching this class twenty years ago for people who want to understand meditation and develop a confident practice, but had found other systems to be too muddling or time consuming. Please join us!
