

QUARANTINE RELIEF PROGRAM

The Quarantine Relief Program (QRP) was developed to help individuals that are quarantined due to COVID-19. After a positive test, the patient is subjected to social isolation and separated from society. If patient has lack of family or financial support, social isolation can lead to patient re-entering society and spreading the virus. Also the people that patient has come in contact with will be quarantined for 2 weeks. This person may also need assistance through this program.

This program is not income based, it is assistance based.
This program is for anyone who needs help while quarantined.

If you or someone you know needs help obtaining necessary supplies while quarantined, please call 231-1111.
