Most common CE directive are; Toys, Personal Protection Equipment (PPE), Medical devices, Low Volt, Rohs and Electromagnetic compatibility (EMC).

CE marking is prohibited for products not covered by any CE directive.

EU directive 1935/2004 is covering the Food Contact Materials (FCM) and EU directive 1223/2009 the Cosmetics & personal Care products (C&PC)

Directive 1907/2006 concerns the Registration, Evaluation, Authorisation and Restriction of Chemicals (REACH)

REACH is a regulation of the European Union, adopted to improve the environment from the risks that can be posed by chemicals.

In the absence of specific directives, the General Product Safety Directive (GPSD) has provision for using harmonized European standards listed as supporting the GPSD to provide a presumption of conformity with the requirements, in the same way as CE marking directives.
