HEALTHCARE FLOORING

PROVIDING SUPPORT FOR CARE, COMFORT, & DESIGN

Healthcare spaces must serve the needs of many, from patients to caregivers to visitors to staff. But for healthcare designers, the starting point to meeting those varied needs is always the same: care and aesthetics.

Lonseal® has been laying the groundwork for care and comfort since 1972.

Our resilient sheet vinyl flooring comes in a wide variety of colors, patterns and surfaces — giving designers the ground upon which to build beautiful spaces. Lonseal offers an array of unique visuals from wood looks to non-directional designs, from smooth surfaces to stylish embossed patterns. Within nearly 30 products, designers are given the choice of over 500 different color and styling options, as well as an almost infinite number of possible combinations. Lonseal also offers weld threads that match each color.

Equally important, Lonseal's flooring provides essential care-giving attributes such as stain and slip-resistance, patented anti-microbial properties and air quality through low VOCs. Additionally, Lonseal is proudly committed to ecologically-minded manufacturing and distribution practices.

In order to meet the unique sanitary needs of healthcare spaces, Lonseal developed GreenMedic® which is an exclusive anti-microbial technology formulation. Tests have shown that GreenMedic® has resistance to the growth of bacteria such as Staphylococcus aureus and Escherichia coli.

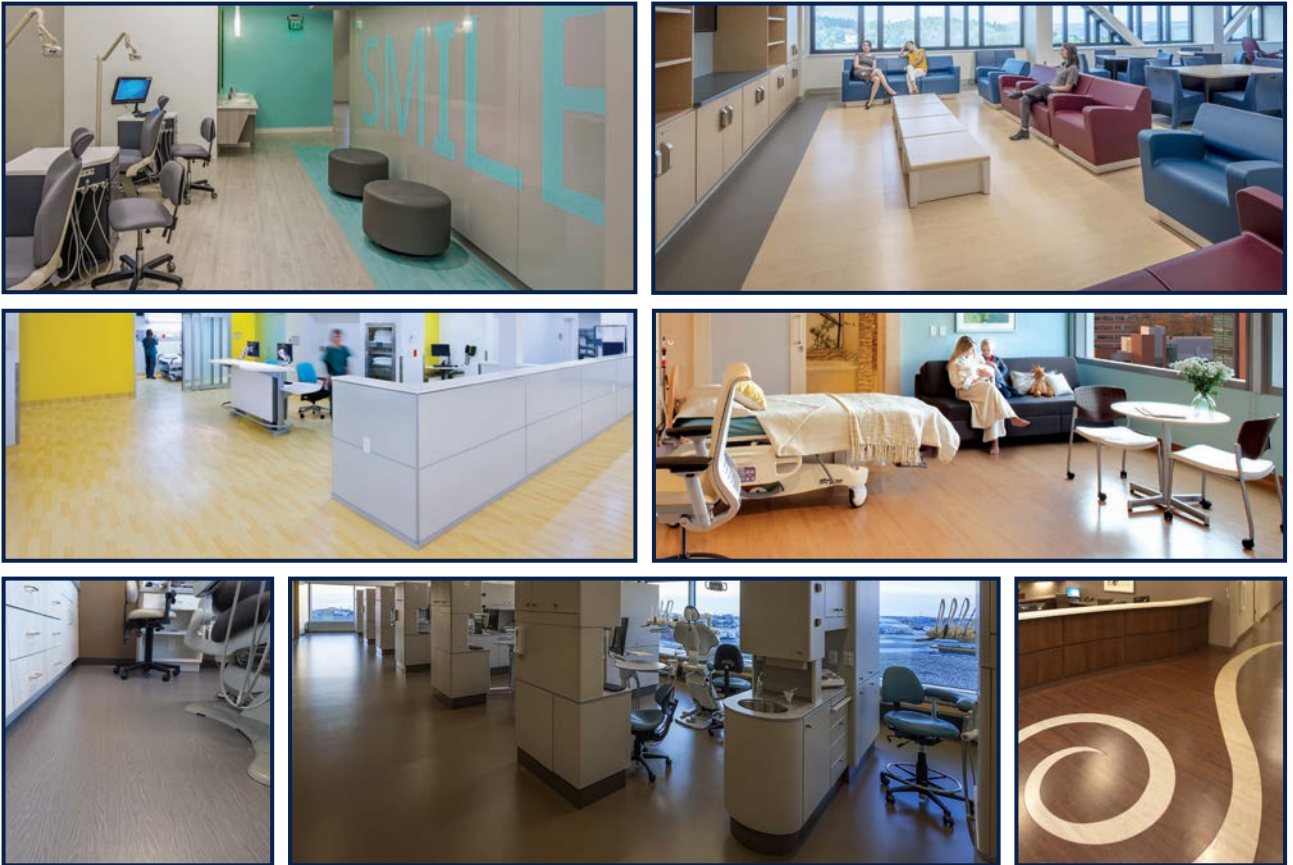

Lonseal's concern for health protection extends from the floor up. Our products have some of the lowest VOC (volatile organic compounds, or "off-gassing") properties of any flooring product on the market, ensuring that patients and staff are breathing the highest air quality possible. All of Lonseal's healthcare flooring and adhesive products are FloorScore® certified making them compliant with most rigorous indoor air quality emission requirements.

Additionally, many of Lonseal's most popular products come standard with TOPSEAL, a factory-applied urethane (or, "no wax") finish that saves on all counts: time on maintenance, money on life-cycle costs and impact on the environment. TOPSEAL is applied in a 30-micron wear layer — three times thicker than most PUR finishes — and extends the life of the flooring by protecting it from wear due to staining and soiling.

Safety is a concern in every public space, but particularly in healthcare areas. Lonseal's finishes have remarkable slip-resistance features that ensure stability for stationary and mobile equipment as well as for the range of patient needs from toddlers to seniors. Lonseal flooring also provides long-term under-foot comfort for staff, an invaluable source of support during the sometimes long care-giving process.
