

TRANSPORT DREAMING CONFERENCE 2020

The 2020 Conference (Transport Dreaming – Connecting Nations – Driving Innovation Conference) Will focus on innovative transport solutions across areas that have significant impacts on the health, wellbeing, cultural obligations and social inclusion of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and community. The National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Corporation Transport and Community Services anticipates input from a broad range of perspectives including; education, social policy and practice, service delivery, health, community and other areas of affordable, adaptable and flexible transport provision.

Submissions are invited in the following areas that address design, development and delivery of passenger/client transport affordability, adaptability, accessibility and flexibility

- Social policy (e.g. NDIS, My Aged Care and Health etc.).
- New and innovative approaches to transport solutions across Australia.
- State and Federal legislation/policy impact on passenger/client transport.
- Engagement and communications with users.

- Opportunity for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people/communities to increase economic participation in the area of transport provision.
- Building Community capacity around development of local solutions.
- Transport innovations that can be applied/adapted across States and Territories.
