The Journey Home...

LASA is proud to play a part in Annie's success-in-the-making story. Though she was brave enough to leave a home filled with domestic violence, Annie and her two-year-old son found themselves with nowhere to go and ended up homeless. Added to the struggle of sleeping in their car, the pandemic hit, and it became nearly impossible for Annie to juggle looking for work, caring for her toddler, ensuring their safety every night, and trying to find a place to call home. She was referred to LASA in 2021, but unfortunately, we didn't have a vacancy until a few months ago. However, during that time, Annie was able to create positive relationships with LASA staff and get the resources and guidance she needed. She never complained, and through her tenacity and optimistic spirit she now has a job and a safe and secure place to live, and her son knows exactly where he is going to lay his head each night.

"Nothing can dim the light that shines from within."
