

Justin Wilkes. Kiss FM DJ, presenter, producer and new dance music aficionado.

Birthday Kiss.

This year sees Kiss Fm DJ, presenter and producer Justin Wilkes celebrate 20 years in the dance music industry - yet he still looks younger than me... not certain how he is pulling it off, but I'm pretty sure he must have a strong cleanse, tone and moisturise regime.

From humble beginnings in Birmingham to the bright lights of Monaco against the silhouetted backdrop of the rise of the superclub.

Past Master / Taste Maker.

From unknown to market leader ...from rave clubs to commercial giants, from 'Ministry' to 'Gatecrasher'... from old skool anthems to discovering new music ... to producing his own. Justin has probably forgotten more about music than most of us will ever know.

20 years has seen a shit ton worth celebrating for the man who was at the forefront of the beginnings of 'Kisstory' ... and so Sticky thought that we would catch up with one of the nicest chaps in music and delve a little deeper in order to bring you a little more about the achievements of the man behind the voice.

Exclusive.

Check out how our chat with Justin went down, find out what we discovered about his achievements and see what the future holds for the man who is known as the new headmaster of the Old Skool.

Justin Wilkes... A Dancer Master with 20 years in the game.

That's next level expertise.

Sticky 2018.
