HISTORY OF THE OWL CLUB OF DENVER

- On March 24, 1949, The Owl Club of Denver was chartered in the state of Colorado. The Club colors were established as Brown and White and an Owl as the emblem.
- In 1951, the group selected its first ten young ladies from Manual and East High Schools based on scholastic performance and community service rather than socioeconomic status for a debutante ball.
- The Owl Club Debutante Ball was the first such presentation in the City and County of Denver. The first cotillion was held at the Park Hill Country Club.
- In 1952, Mrs. Ernestine Smith, wife of Owl Club member George W. Smith Jr., choreograph the dance – Waltz of the Bells which continues as part of the debutante cotillion tradition.
- On May 15, 1960, the Owls dedicated their new club house.
- When the Air Force Academy moved from Lowry Air Force Base to Colorado Springs, the Academy's Director of Social Affairs called Owl Club member, Colonel Hubert 'Hooks' Jones, about the lack of social affairs for Black Cadets. As a result, the Club made the cadets 'Junior Owls' and for several years thereafter, the cadets assisted with the Debutante Cotillions.
- In 1964 and 1965, the Club formed the Owl Club Youth Incentive, Athletic & Scholarship Association under the direction of Omar Blair to help youngsters in East Denver acquire football skills for high school. Mr. Blair convinced the NBA to play two pre-season games in Denver and the proceeds financed the Owls little league football team.
- Owl member Omar Blair was a former Tuskegee Airman and the first Black president of the Denver School Board. He held the position from 1972 to 1984.
- Owl member Charles R. Cousins was an Entrepreneur and Real Estate Investor who owned several properties throughout the Denver area. He was most recognized for developing thirty properties in Five Points. Charles was appointed to the Denver City Zoning Board for twenty-three years.
- Owl member William Kirk established the first Owl Club Scholarship Fund. In 1979, Owl member, Wilbur Hardy chaired the first 'Afternoon with the Owls' at the Country Dinner Playhouse, the proceeds from which went to increase the Owl Club Scholarship Fund.
- In 1999, the Blair-Caldwell African American Library was envisioned and named after Owl members Omar Blair, and Elvin Caldwell who was the first Black City Council member.
- June 2010, the Lindsey-Flanigan Denver Justice Center was dedicated. James C. Flanigan, an Owl member, was the grandson of a slave. He was the first to graduate from college in his family, first to become a lawyer, first to join the Colorado Bar Association, was Denver's first Deputy District Attorney, the first Municipal Court Judge, and first to be appointed to the Denver District Court bench.
- Dr. Bernard Gibson was an Owl Member for over forty years and the first African American Board-Certified Surgeon in the State of Colorado. Dr. Gibson became Chief of Surgery in 1954 at Lowry Air Force Base and was a member of the faculty of the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center in the Department of Surgery for over twenty-five years.
- Owl member Robert Shoates was the first African American Postmaster between Chicago and the West Coast. He was later appointed to the position of Deputy Manager of Revenue for the Motor Vehicle Division, was one of the founders of the Greater Park Hill Sertoma and served as Chairperson of the Owl Club Scholarship Fund. In 2012, Bob received the Martin Luther King Jr. Humanitarian Award presented by the Colorado Civil Rights Commission.
- Owl member Charles "C.T." Smith was recognized by the City and County of Denver, Denver Police Museum, Black Officers Association, and the Denver Police Department for his many years of service. "C.T." was responsible for the creation of the very successful Crime Stoppers program which partnered with the community in establishing safe neighborhood practices.
- Owl member Judge Wiley Y. Daniel was the first Black judge appointed to the federal bench in Colorado over 30 years ago.
- Owl member Penfield Tate is a practicing Civil Rights Attorney in Denver and held positions in the 33rd district of the Colorado Senate from 1997 until 1999 and was elected to the Colorado House of Representatives 8th district in 2000. Penfield resigned from the Senate in 2003.
- The Owl Club was listed in the National and State Register of Historic Properties in 2024.

On behalf of the city of Aurora, it is my great pleasure to congratulate you and your esteemed organization on a historic milestone, the 75th annual Debutante Ball.

The Owl Club of Denver has offered community, leadership and support to African American youth across the metro area for the better part of a century. I hope you take time during this Diamond Jubilee celebration to acknowledge and praise the community-centric work that goes into building the leaders of tomorrow.

I would also like to commend your continued dedication to granting scholarships to deserving young women, as well as providing them with mentorship and investing in their futures.

Building cultural foundations takes time and steadfastness, attributes the Owl Club and its members possess in abundance.

The 2026 Debutantes should be proud of their achievements and contributions to the community, as Aurora is proud of them. We wish them continued success in their next chapters.

With warmest regards and best wishes for a delightful presentation,

DISTRICT 9 COUNCIL MEMBER

June 6, 2026

Dear Members of the Owl Club of Denver and Debutantes,

On behalf of Denver City Council District 9, it is my distinct pleasure to extend my congratulations to the Owl Club of Denver as you celebrate your 75th Annual Debutante Ball, your Diamond Jubilee, on Saturday, June 6, 2026.

For 75 years, the Owl Club of Denver has stood as a beacon of grace, purpose, and enduring legacy within our community. Since that first elegant evening in 1951 at the Park Hill Country Club and the first cotillion of its kind in Denver, you have carried forward a tradition that honors not only achievement but promise. Each debutante presented is more than a moment in time, she is a reflection of heritage, resilience, and the bright horizon of what is yet to come.

Through your steadfast commitment, more than 1,000 young African American women have stepped into the world uplifted by mentorship, guided by culture, and strengthened by opportunity. Your work plants seeds that continue to blossom across generations, shaping leaders, visionaries, and changemakers whose influence reaches far beyond the ballroom.

Education remains the heartbeat of your mission. From the vision of William Kirk in establishing the Owl Club Scholarship Fund to the ongoing dedication of the Owl Club of Denver Scholarship Foundation, you have ensured that ambition is met with opportunity and dreams are given the foundation to rise.

As you mark this Diamond Jubilee, may you take pride in a legacy not only measured in years, but in lives touched, paths illuminated, and futures transformed. Your story is woven into the fabric of Denver itself, a testament to what can be achieved when community, purpose, and vision move as one.

May this celebration be as radiant as the legacy you have built and may the years ahead continue to shine just as brightly.

With great respect and admiration,

To The Owl Club of Denver and all the remarkable young women being honored tonight at your Diamond Jubilee:

Congratulations on 75 years of extraordinary service and impact in Denver.

For three-quarters of a century, The Owl Club of Denver has helped uplift, empower, and celebrate the next generation of young African American women, creating pathways of opportunity, cultivating confidence, and strengthening the fabric of our community. This milestone is a testament to the vision of your founders and the continued dedication of everyone who has carried your mission forward.

As Colorado's Secretary of State, I am keenly aware of how meaningful access to resources and a supportive community can be — whether that's access to the ballot box to make your voice heard or a supportive business environment so Colorado's next generation of leaders can help our state thrive. Spaces like this — rooted in legacy, excellence, and cultural pride are equally vital in shaping confident, capable leaders prepared to make lasting impact.

To tonight's Debutantes: as you celebrate your achievements and The Owl Club's remarkable anniversary, please know that you are not only inspirational, but are the latest examples of a powerful legacy in your community, your city, and your state. You stand on the shoulders of generations who have paved the way, and now you carry that legacy forward in your own unique voice and purpose. I look forward to seeing where the future takes you, and to many more years of The Owl Club of Denver empowering the next generation of leaders. I am proud to honor you.

Sincerely,

Dear Members of The Owl Club of Denver, 2026 Debutantes, families, and friends,

I am honored to congratulate The Owl Club of Denver on its 75th Annual Debutante Ball, a remarkable Diamond Jubilee celebration of scholarship, service, leadership, and Black excellence.

For 75 years, The Owl Club has recognized and uplifted exceptional young African American women whose academic achievement, character, leadership, and service reflect the very best of Denver. This tradition has helped build a lasting legacy of representation, civic leadership, and community pride.

The reach of that legacy is perhaps nowhere more visible than in Denver's own government. Three former Presidents of Denver City Council, Elvin R. Caldwell, Allegra "Happy" Haynes, and Elbra M. Wedgeworth, were part of the Owl Club community, and each helped shape the office I now hold. That history is part of what makes this milestone so meaningful to me personally.

Their stories remind us why representation matters. When diverse voices are present in positions of power, our decisions are better, our institutions are more accountable, and more people can see themselves reflected in the future of our city. Representation is not symbolic. It shapes policy, opens doors, challenges inequities, and helps ensure that communities historically left out of decision-making are not only heard, but are leading.

To the 2026 Debutantes, congratulations on this well-earned honor. You stand in a proud lineage of women who have led with excellence, dignity, and purpose. May you carry the confidence of knowing that your voice matters, your leadership is needed, and your future is full of possibility. The work ahead is not only for yourselves. It is for your families, your neighborhoods, and the next seven generations who will inherit the communities you help build, the stories you help preserve, and the opportunities you help create.

Respectfully,

Amanda P. Sandoval

The Owl Club of Denver

Greetings Debutantes, Parents, Family, and Guests:

I welcome you to the 75th annual presentation of the Owl Club of Denver Cotillion. I extend best wishes and continued success to our outstanding and awesome young ladies as they embark on their journey of college matriculation and professional aspirations. The 2026 Owl Club Debutantes were carefully chosen from a group of nearly 100 candidates for their academic merit, selfless service, and community involvement. Also, I offer sincere thanks and gratitude to the parents of our Debutantes for their love, encouragement, support, and sacrifice over the years.

The history of the Owl Club of Denver is rich and filled with men dedicated to faith, family, and community service. The Club was established in 1941 by several African-American men who spent their Saturday nights playing cards. One of the wives remarked that they were a bunch of night owls. In 1951, the first Debutante presentation occurred based on the Club's desires to acknowledge the achievements of graduating high school African-American young women.

On behalf of the esteemed members of the Owl Club of Denver (including the Owlettes), I am honored to congratulate and salute the young ladies on their exceptional accomplishments and future goals. I pray for God's grace and good providence as our Debutantes strive to create meaningful and fulfilling lives.

"I pray for God's grace and abundant blessings as our Debutantes strive to build meaningful, purposeful, and fulfilling lives."

This is a remarkable milestone, and it is an honor to witness your dedication, perseverance, and grace throughout these challenging times.

Over the last three years, we have collectively faced the trials and tribulations brought upon us by the pandemic. The world has experienced upheavals that have tested our resolve and forced us to adapt to new norms. However, it is during times of adversity that true character is revealed, and I must commend each of you for your unwavering strength and resilience. Despite the challenges, you have managed to stay focused on your goals and continue to pursue excellence.

My fondest memory is my dad teaching me the basics of the waltz so that I could be ready for Mrs Smith when she taught us the Waltz of the Bells. May you continue to recognize and highlight the outstanding youth in our community through this fabulously prodigious event.

Owl Club of Denver Scholarship Fund, Incorporated

Greetings:

Education has always been one of the major focal points for the Owl Club membership. Recognizing the financial needs of many talented Owl Club Debutantes, club member William Kirk established the first Owl Club Scholarship Fund.

On November 16, 1994 the Owl Club scholarship Fund, Inc. achieved 501c3 organizational status exclusively for educational, charitable, and scientific purposes. The Mission of the scholarship fund is to promote and sustain pride, character, leadership and excellence in young African American high school senior young ladies. Scholarships are awarded to graduating high school senior young ladies who are entering their first year of college or enrolling in institutes of higher learning and are economically disadvantaged. In the past couple of years due an increase in contributions we were able to award a few additional scholarships based on merit.

Currently we utilize the Owl Club Debutantes as our basis for selecting the scholarship recipients each year.

In the past few years the fund has proudly supported graduating seniors entering their 1st year of enrollment in institutes of higher education, with over $120,000 in support.

The immediate future will require more than that amount to even begin to think about strengthening our traditional standard of recognizing graduating senior young ladies.

You can support our mission through donations sent to 2815 Madison Street, Denver, CO. 80205, on our website: owlclubofdenverscholarshipfund.com. or the P.O. Box below
