Let's Go Crabbing

Newport Oregon is called the “Dungeness Crab Capital of the World”. Crabbing is a year-round activity, but the crabs are fattest in months that end in “er” (i.e. September, October, November, & December).

- ❖ CATCH IT: Crabbing can almost always yield a successful trip and requires minimal gear which can often be rented from various locations.
- ❖ BUY IT: Purchase it live and prepare it yourself or take it home. If you're taking live crab home, be sure to follow the recommendations for keeping the crab cold.
- ❖ EAT IT: There are several restaurants along the Bay Front and around Newport to enjoy delicious crab!
- ❖ Whether you catch or buy crab to eat during your stay at The Landing at Newport, cooking crab within a condo is prohibited due to the smell and mess. For your convenience crab cookers, as well as grills, are available on The Landing's common patio.
- ❖ For information about catching, buying, cleaning, eating, or transporting live Dungeness Crab, visit: dungenesscrabtrail.com
