

Sojfer/Soufer/Schaffer/Shaffer Family (Descendancy Narrative Report)

[NOTE: Superscript numbers indicate the generation in the outline. I've also used colors to make it easier to see which people are in the same generation as each other.]

Disclaimer: The information in this document is not complete and may also need updating or correction. Your input on your family would be most appreciated!

Sofer is the Hebrew for "scribe/writer/scholar. A sofer is a ritual scribe in Judaism. (See Appendix 1)

The spelling of the surname varies among members of the family. Max used Schaffer; Bess, Sam and Morris used Shaffer, and South American family used Soyfer or Soufer.

I. Girsh¹ SOJFER (need to verify this name)

A. Yankev Shmuel² SOJFER was born circa 1825 in Poland/Russia.. He married Sori (Sarah?) [MAIDEN NAME NOT KNOWN].

1. Hershel (Alter)³ SOUFER was born in Poland/Russia. His Hebrew name is Zvi. He was also known as Harry. His name appeared as Hershel SCHAFFER in his daughter Bess's Social Security application. Hershel married Blume ASCH, daughter of David? ASCH and Etka _____, before 1880. (Some documents spell the surname as ASH.)

a) Max⁴ SCHAFFER was born on 14 May 1880 in Krynki, Grodno Gubernia, Poland (Russia). [CONFLICTING info: Max's WWI Draft registration listed his birthdate as 15 Oct 1880, but his naturalization papers show May 14th. His marriage certificate indicates that he was born around 1882!] His Hebrew name is Mordechai. The 1904 ship passenger lists showed his name as Mordche SOFFER.

Max immigrated to the United States on 22 June 1904 on a ship departing from Bremen (on June 11th) and arriving in New York. The passenger list shows the year as 1904, but Max listed 1903 (and June 12th/24th as his departure and arrival dates) on his naturalization petition. From his sister Bess: ""My oldest brother was in the army and when he came out of the army there was a rumor of the Russian-Japanese war, so he would have to go back...so my father sent him to the United States."

In 1904, Max was a baker (the family business in Krynki). (His sister Bess said that all of her brothers worked in the leather factory in Krynki, but we don't know for during what years or for how long.)

Max married Ida RABINOWITZ, daughter of Loebel RABINOWITZ (formerly Haimowitz) and Mollie (Meile) Arkin, on 19 March 1907 in Chicago, Illinois. Ida was born in 1883 in Grodno Gubernia, Russia/Poland. (1920 Census shows Russia as her birthplace. 1930 census shows Poland as her birthplace. Her granddaughter said the family came from Bialystok, which did change hands between the two countries and was the capital of the Grodno Governate between 1842-1915. It is now the capital of the Podlaskie Voivodeship.) Her Hebrew name is Chaika. The original surname of her father was Hymawitz. Loebel was 'adopted' by the Rabinowitz family, who had no sons, thus becoming their only son and thereby avoiding being drafted into the army. Ida immigrated to the United States on the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse, departing from Bremen, Germany and arriving in New York on 28 June 1905. The passenger list indicated that her occupation was maid servant. As of 1907, she was also known as Ida RUBENOVICH OR RABINOVICH. She was naturalized in either 1908 or 1918. (Faded writing on 1920 census made the date difficult to read.)

Between 1910 and 1911, Max and Ida lived at 732 N. Morgan, Chicago, Illinois. Between 1910 and 1922, Max was a self-employed junk dealer in the "bottle business". (Family later learned that upon his death, police came to the house in search of the "bottles", which were bootleg alcohol!) He was naturalized on 7 February 1911 in Chicago, Illinois. In his draft registration in 1917, Max was described as medium height with blue eyes and brown hair. Between 1918 and 1922, Max and Ida lived 1524 Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. In 1920, Ida was a buyer for a junk shop.

Max died on 7 January 1922 in Chicago, Illinois, at age 41. According to his daughter Ruth, Max died of peritonitis as a result of an incorrect diagnosis! According to his niece Dorothy Schatz, his appendix burst while he was on the operating table. Max was buried in Waldheim cemetery, I.O.B.A. section, Forest Park, Illinois. Services were held in the chapel at 2235 W. Division St.

In 1930 Ida lived at 4926 Albany Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. In 1940, she lived at 1813 Spaulding Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Ida died in September 1952. She was buried in Waldheim Cemetery, I.O.B.A. section, Forest Park, Illinois. Services were held at the chapel at 4225 W. Roosevelt Road (corner of Tripp Street), Chicago.

(1) Jacob Victor⁵ SCHAFFER was born on 26 November 1907 in Chicago, Illinois. His Hebrew name is Yakov Avigdor. He went by the nickname Jack. In April 1930, Jack was a building manager. He lived at 4922 N. Albany Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. In 1940, Jack lived at 1813 Spaulding Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. In 1940, Jack was a traffic manager in the transportation industry. In 1942, Jack was listed as a Tractor Driver or Truck Driver as his 'civil occupation' in his WWII enlistment record. Jack was described in his draft registration in 1942 as 70 inches tall and weighing 174 pounds in his WWII enlistment records. Jack enlisted in the U.S. army on June 29, 1942 in Chicago, Illinois and had the rank of Private. [Veterans death record listed enlistment date as 20 Feb 1943.] He advanced to the rank of Major. He served until 29 Aug 1946.

Jack married Mollie WEINSTEIN on 20 January 1946 in Chicago, Cook County, Illinois. (Their marriage license was issued on 16 January 1946.) Mollie was born on 19 July 1916 in Detroit, Michigan. In 1920, Mollie lived at 281 Montcalm Street, Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan. In 1930, she lived at 3645 Third Avenue, Detroit, Michigan. The daughter of Joseph and Anna Weinstein, immigrants from Kyiv, Mollie and her two siblings (Jack and Rebecca) helped her parents run a laundry and dry cleaning store in front of their home in Detroit. She was a bright student, according to her brother, and graduated from high school summa cum laude at age 16. In 1940, Mollie lived at 2254 Euclid, Detroit, Michigan. She was a medical records secretary. Mollie began military service on 19 October 1943. Mollie was proud to be part of the "Greatest Generation", serving as a WAC (Women's Army Corp) during World War II. She was stationed in London, England during the buzz bombing, landed on the beaches of Normandy 6 weeks after D-Day, was stationed in Paris after its liberation, and finally was part of the Army of Occupation in Frankfurt, Germany.

She co-authored the book "Mollie's War" (with her daughter, Cyndee) which recounted her WWII experiences. The introduction to the book stated that Mollie "was a shy, retiring young Jewish woman from Detroit who enlisted in the Women's Army Corps (WACs) just months after it was established in 1943. Mollie Weinstein's letters to her sister Beck (Rebecca Winston, 1912-1999), brother Jack (Jack Weinstein, 1922 -) and best friend Sarah (Sarah Weinstein, now Kaminsky) provide a chronology of her service as a WAC from its beginnings with her train trip to Daytona Beach, Florida for basic training in October 1943 to her first assignments in California and Georgia, her service overseas in England, France and Germany through her return to the United States on the Queen Mary in November 1945.

In 1950, Jack and Mollie lived at 1813 Spaulding, Chicago, Illinois. Jack was the proprietor of a retail army surplus store. In 1970, Jack and Mollie lived in Lincolnwood, Illinois. In 1978, they lived at 7250 N Western Ave, Apt 211, Chicago, Illinois. In 1993, Jack and Mollie lived at 1620 Woodduck Ln Apt 1c, Wheeling, Illinois. In 2000, they still lived in Wheeling.

Jack died on 20 October 2000 in Wheeling, Cook County, Illinois, at age 92. He was buried on 23 October 2000 in Shalom Memorial Park, 1700 W. Rand Road, Arlington Heights, Cook County, Illinois. Services were held at Temple Beth-El, 3610 Dundee Road, Northbrook, IL.

Mollie died on 7 April 2012 at The Park, an assisted living facility, in Vernon Hills, Lake County, Illinois, at age 95. [CONFLICTING info: SSDI lists date of death as April 8th, but obituary articles list the 7th.]. She was buried in Shalom Memorial Park, 1700 West Rand Road, Arlington Heights, Illinois.ⁱ

Howard died on 29 April 1996 in Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, at age 86.

(4) Dina⁵ SCHAFFER was born on 16 September 1915 in Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, [CONFLICTING info: Dina's gravestone lists her birthdate as 17 September, but the county birth record lists 16 September.] She was also known as Danice SCHAFFER (name on her birth record, but not used as far as I know). Ruth and Dina are twins. In 1930, Dina lived at 4922 N. Albany Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Dina married Theodore ("Ted") LINN in 1935 in Chicago, Illinois. Ted was born on 20 May 1913 at Manchester, Lancashire (Salford District), England. [CONFLICTING info: His obituary and gravestone list his birth year as 1914, but his English birth record and WWII draft registration show 1913.] Ted was the son of Saul Linsky and Esther Santhouse. He had two brothers, Sidney and Bernard. Ted immigrated to the United States at the age of six with his parents and siblings on the SS Baltic, departing Liverpool, England on 13 August 1919 and arriving in New York on 24 August 1919. As of 25 August 1919, his family lived at 3 Parkman Street, West End, Boston, Massachusetts. (Saul had been naturalized in Boston in 1904 and this is the address listed on the passenger list when he brought his family over.) After 1936 Ted's name was legally changed from Theodore LINSKY.

In 1940, Dina and Ted lived at 1813 Spaulding Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Ted was described in his draft registration in 1940 as 5 feet 7 inches tall, 130 pounds, with a light brown complexion, brown hair, brown eyes, and a "scar under his chin on the right side." In 1940, Ted owned an automotive manufacturing business at 1215 S. Ashland Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. They moved from Chicago to Salem, Oregon in 1946. In 1950, Ted owned and operated a sawmill in Salem, Oregon. In 1950, Ted and Dina lived at 485 Manbrin Drive N, Keizer, Marion County, Oregon. (They were still at that address in 1975.) Between 1971 and 1975, Salem city directories listed him as a "partsman," but Ted was the owner of Acme Auto and Truck Parts, Salem, Oregon. In 1986, they retired to Portland where they worked part-time in their son's medical office. Between 1992 and 1993, they lived at 7392 SW Arranmore Way, Portland, Washington County, Oregon. Ted was the president of Temple Beth Shalom Synagogue and B'nai Brith.

Ted died on 10 December 1992 at Hopewell House, Portland, Multnomah County, Oregon, of cancer at age 79. He was buried on 13 December 1992 in Neveh Zedek Cemetery, 7925 SW Canyon Lane, Portland, Multnomah County, Oregon.

b) (--?--)⁴ DAUGHTER Schaffer was born after 1881 in Krynki, Poland (Russia). There was a daughter between Max and Morris who died at age 19. Cause of death not known, but her sister Bess Susman thought it was from lockjaw. (--?--) died circa 1900 in Poland/Russia.

c) Chaja⁴ SOYFER was born after 1887 in Krynki, Poland (Russia). Chaja also went by the nickname of Chaitche. Chayah married her first husband [name not yet known] in Europe. [Need to verify when he died, but it was before she came to South America.] In 1936, Chaja lived in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Chaja and Rywka SOFER immigrated in 1936. They came to Argentina on the ship Macelia from Bordeaux, France. The trip from Bordeaux to Buenos Aires took 16 days. They remained in Buenos Aires (with their husbands?) until Dvoshe and Feival arrived a year later and then they all moved to Montevideo, Uruguay, primarily because there was a community there of people from Krynki. Chaja married Abraham KIRZNER after 1936 in Uruguay. There is a 1951 listing for Abraham Ana R. DE KIRZNER living at Av. Uruguay 1922, Montevideo, Uruguay. [Did Avraham remarry or was this another name for Chaja?] Chaja died [date?] in Uruguay.

(1) Blanca⁵ _____ was born in Uruguay. She was named after her maternal grandmother, Blume Asch. Blanca married German KIRZNER, son of Abraham KIRZNER (from a previous marriage?), on 29 September 1951 at los salones de la calle Rio Branco 1119, Montevideo, Uruguay. In 1996, they lived in Trieste Tres, Uruguay.

(a) Clarita⁶ KIRSHNER was born aft 1952 in Montevideo, Uruguay. Clarita married Rudi LEWY in Uruguay. Clarita and Rudi lived in Montevideo, Uruguay.

i) Herbert⁷ LEWY was born in Montevideo, Uruguay.

ii) (--?--)⁷ DAUGHTER 1 LEWY was born in Montevideo, Uruguay.

iii) (--?--)⁷ DAUGHTER 2 LEWY was born in Montevideo, Uruguay.

(b) Andres⁶ KIRSHNER was born aft 1952 in Montevideo, Uruguay. He was also known as Elias. His father-in-law was an opera singer. Circa 1978, Andres was studying to be a veterinarian. Andres married (--?--) in 1985 in Uruguay.

(2) Enrique⁵ _____ was born in Uruguay. Enrique married Eva [MAIDEN NAME NOT KNOWN]. His Hebrew name is Hershel. Per his aunt Berta, Enrique and Eva did not have any children as of 1978. They lived about an hour away from his sister, Blanca, and were very well off economically and socially.

d) Morris⁴ SHAFFER was born on 10 January 1888 in Krynki, Poland (Russia). His Hebrew name is Moshe. Before 1907, Morris was worked in the leather factory in Krynki. Morris immigrated in 1907. Morris never married. According to sister Bess, "In those days they used to do people so they shouldn't have to go in the army... so I think they did something to his ear...and somehow this sort of changed his life and he wasn't interested in many things." According to niece Lila Weinberg, there is a story that he was in love with someone, but it didn't work out and he was heartbroken thereafter. According to niece Dorothy Schatz, Morris was a 'soft-spoken, gentle man and very good looking.'

As of 1910, Morris lived at 1407 W. Loomis, Chicago, Illinois. He was a boarder with a family named Brener (Jacob and Deborah and their three children). There was another boarder named Rose Herskovitz. In 1910 Morris was a cigar maker in a cigar factory. He was naturalized after 1910. (The 1910 census lists Morris as an alien.)

Morris died on 10 September 1953 in Chicago, Illinois, at age 65. According to his niece Dorothy, Morris died of tuberculosis in a sanitarium. Morris was buried in Waldheim Cemetery, Forest Park, Cook County, Illinois.

e) Samuel⁴ SHAFFER was born on 15 July 1889 in Krynki, Russia (now Poland), (This conflicts with birthdate on headstone, but it is the date listed on his Declaration of Intention for citizenship.) His Hebrew name is Yakov Shmuel. He was named after his grandfather, Yankev Shmoel (per sister Bess). Before 1910, Samuel was working in the leather factory in Krynki. From his sister Bess: "When my brother Sam became twenty-one years old, my father sent him to the United States so he wouldn't have to go in the army. Sam got all kinds of education; he went to every melamed in shtetl." Sam also was known by the nickname of "The Baron" because he always dressed well, according to his sister, Bess.

Sam immigrated to the United States departing from Antwerp, Belgium arriving through Montreal, Canada, and Detroit on 12 January 1910. [Conflicting info: His petition for naturalization shows Jan. 13th as his arrival date.] His Declaration of Intent was dated Oct. 2, 1922. In 1910, Samuel lived at 732 Morgan Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Samuel married Blanche HYMAN on 17 December 1917 in Chicago, Cook County, Illinois. Blanche was born on 2 May 1892 in Krynki, Poland. Her Hebrew name is Blume. Blanche is the daughter of Itzek Himowitz and Rachel Leah (nee Feller). Her father's name was Avraham Yitzchak (according to her headstone at Waldheim and his headstone in Cincinnati). Her brother, Harry, was a good friend of Sam's. Blanche first met Sam when she was in the park with her brother, sitting on a bench (per daughter, Lila). The name Hyman is shortened from Hymawitz (Haimowitz), the family is related to the Rabinowitz family (Max Schaffer's wife). Blanche immigrated to the United States from Bremen Germany, arriving in Baltimore, Maryland in Sep 1905. In 1920, Samuel and Blanche were renting at 858 Mozart Street, Chicago, Cook County, Illinois. Sam was a sorter in a junk shop per the 1920 census. He was described in his draft registration in 1922 as 5 feet 8 inches tall, 160 pounds, with a light complexion, brown hair, and gray eyes. His occupation was listed as bottle sorter. In October 1922, Sam and Blanche lived at 856 N. Mozart St, Chicago, Illinois. (They moved next door!) Between 1929 and 1930, Samuel was a shipping clerk for a bottle supplies company.

Between 1929 and 1930, Sam and Blanche lived at 2843 W. Walton, Chicago, Illinois. Sam was naturalized on 17 January 1930 in Chicago, Illinois. Between 1930 and 1940, Sam and Blanche lived at 2843 Walton Street, Chicago, Cook County, Illinois. In 1930, Blanche's sister Esther was living with them. Blanche was naturalized on 19 November 1941 in Chicago, Illinois. (She originally became a U.S. citizen through the naturalization of her father on 3 October 1911 in the Circuit Court in Newport, Kentucky. - Certificate 192546) Blanche was described in her petition for naturalization as 5 feet 2 inches tall, 160 pounds, with a medium complexion, brown hair, and hazel eyes. She listed her occupation as cap maker and housewife. In 1950, Blanche was a sewing machine operator in a cap factory. Between 1941 and 1958, Sam and Blanche lived at 2851 Augusta Blvd, Chicago, Illinois. In 1942, Sam was a peddler. In 1958, Samuel was a salvage dealer.

Blanche died on 16 January 1958 at Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago, Illinois, at age 65. She was buried in Waldheim Cemetery, Forest Park, Cook County, Illinois. Services were held in the chapel at 2235 Division Street, Chicago.

"CHICAGO — Lila Weinberg, a Chicago historian, author, teacher and editor, has died. Weinberg, who died May 29 at the age of 91 from complications of cancer, collaborated with her late husband, Arthur, on six books on social history, including two on attorney Clarence Darrow. One of the books, Clarence Darrow: Attorney for the Damned, spent 19 weeks on the New York Times best-seller list in 1957. Arthur Weinberg died in 1989.

A resident of Chicago's Hyde Park neighborhood for 45 years, Weinberg was a senior book manuscript editor and a journal manuscript editor at the University of Chicago Press for 34 years. She retired at age 80. Weinberg was honored as a Newberry Library treasured author. She received the John Peter Altgeld Freedom of Speech Award from the Newberry Library Bughouse Square Debates Committee in 2001. The Weinbergs also were honored by the Society of Midland Authors with a special body of work award in May, 1987.

The Weinbergs are well known in Chicago as having conceived the idea in 1957 of the annual commemoration of Darrow's death by throwing a wreath over the Clarence Darrow Memorial Bridge in Jackson Park, Chicago — the site where Darrow's ashes were strewn — on the anniversary of his death. The ceremony continues today in conjunction with an accompanying symposium focused on an issue of concern to Darrow that is still relevant today."

In 1987, Arthur was past president of the Society of Midland Authors and he received the Midland Authors' annual award for a distinguished body of work. In 1988 Arthur was a Lloyd Lewis Fellow in American History at the Newberry Library, where he has spent years as a researcher and scholar.

Other books by Arthur and Lila:

A Sentimental Rebel, a biography of Clarence Darrow which received the 1980 Friends of Literature Award. The Muckrakers, which was selected for the White House library in the Kennedy administration, Instead of Violence, Passport to Utopia, Some Dissenting Voices, and Verdict Out of Court.

At the time of his death, the Weinbergs were working on a book titled Bold Spirits: Women of Hull House, about the early women of Chicago's Hull House, and also were consulting on two television projects about Darrow's life.

Arthur died on 28 January 1989 at Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago, Illinois, at age 73. He was buried in Waldheim Cemetery, Forest Park, Cook County, Illinois. In First Krinker Society section.

Lila died on 29 May 2010 in Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, at age 91. She was buried in First Krinker Society, Gate 225, Jewish Waldheim Cemetery, Forest Park, Illinois.

g) Bess⁴ SHAFFER was born on 27 May 1898 in Krynki, Grodno, Poland. Her Yiddish/Hebrew name is Bashi/Batya. Bess immigrated to the United States on the SS Neckar North German Lloyd Line departing from Bremen, Germany and arriving in Baltimore, Maryland on 21 March 1914. When she arrived in the U.S., she lived with Max and his family for a while. In 1920, Bess lived at 856 Mozart St., Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, with her brother Sam, his wife Blanche and their daughter Lila. Bess was a baster in a tailor shop. As of 1920, she was also known as Bessie.

Bess married Eli Walter SUSMAN, son of Mendel ZYSMAN and Cypora Leja SOLARZ, on 17 June 1923 in Chicago, Cook County, Illinois.

Eli as born on 11 July 1895 in Zambrow (Zamborov), Lomza, Poland. His Hebrew/Yiddish name is Eli Velvel. Between 1913 and 1923, he was also known as Elie ZUSSMAN OR ZUSMAN. Eli immigrated to the United States on the SS Potsdam (3rd class) leaving Rotterdam, Holland on Dec. 20, 1913 and arriving in New York on 31 December 1913. In 1917, Eli was described in his WWI draft registration as medium height, medium build with brown hair and brown eyes. His daughter, Marilyn, said he had blond hair.

Between 1917 and 1950, Eli was a carpenter, a contractor, and - for a time - a hotel owner. He owned the Newberry Hotel; he rented the Chancellor Hotel (for 50-yr? lease) and ran it. It was located at 53rd and Lake Park. The ship's passenger list indicated his profession as "joiner." Eli registered for military service on 5 June 1917 in Chicago, Illinois. On 7 September 1917 he was "discharged from immediate liability to serve under the present call for military service of the United States" and classified as 5G. (Status 5 was for those ineligible for military service, usually because of a medical disability. Eli's 1917 draft registration indicated that he was deaf in his left ear.) Between 1918 and 1923, Eli lived at 2642 Iowa Street, Chicago, Illinois, near his sister Ida and her husband, Meyer. Appendix 1

Origin of the surname Sofer

Sofer, also spelled Sopher (Hebrew: “scribe”), plural Soferim, or Sopherim, any of a group of Jewish scholars who interpreted and taught biblical law and ethics from about the 5th century BC to about 200 BC. The first of the soferim was the biblical prophet Ezra. Ezra and his disciples initiated a tradition of rabbinic scholarship that remains to this day a fundamental feature of Judaism.

Historically, the soferim are of great importance, not only for having initiated rabbinic studies but also for having fixed the canon of Old Testament Scriptures and, as copyists and editors, for their energetic efforts to safeguard the purity of the original text. The Talmud (collection of traditions on Jewish religious laws) records 18 changes (tiqqune soferim) that they introduced to preclude misunderstanding of the Scriptures.

The soferim arose to meet a specific need of the Jewish people. Under foreign rule, the Jews enjoyed cultural autonomy and were allowed to govern themselves under the constitution of the Law of Moses. The soferim became experts in the Law, applying the idealistic aspirations of the Torah and oral tradition to the exigencies of daily life. Many of their ordinances were formulated to safeguard, or form a “fence” (seyag) around, the Torah.

As time passed, sofer came to mean one who taught the Bible to children, or a copyist or a notary or a calligrapher qualified to write Torah scrolls or other religious documents. The Babylonian Talmud (c. AD 500) has a soferim tractate that stipulates how such work is to be performed. Modern Hebrew translates sofer as a “man of letters.” Encyclopedia Britannica (<https://www.britannica.com/topic/sofer>)

The Hebrew term is documented as a Jewish family name in the 14th century ... Soifer is a Yiddish spelling variant. Soferov and Soferof are Slavic variants, in which the Russian suffix “-ov” and its Westernized spelling variant “-of” stand for “son of” or “family of.” The German translation, Schreiber, is mentioned as a Jewish family name in 1675. Srajber is recorded in 1725, and Schrayber in 1735. The forms Schriber, Scriber and Sauphar are found in Paris, in 1809. Scriba, Sauphar and Soufir are also documented in 19th century France. The Polish/Yiddish transcription of the German Schreiber is Szriber. Other forms include Schreiberman(n) and Szrajbman, both of them meaning “scribe man”. (ANU Museum of the Jewish People)

Szczuczyn Pogrom:

From Wikipedia:

The Szczuczyn pogrom was the massacre of some 300 Jews in the community of Szczuczyn carried out by its Polish inhabitants in June 1941 after the town was bypassed by the invading German soldiers in the beginning of Operation Barbarossa. The June massacre was stopped by German soldiers.

A subsequent massacre by Poles in July killed some 100 Jews and following the German Gestapo takeover in August 1941 some 600 Jews were killed by the Germans, the remaining Jews placed in a ghetto, and subsequently sent to Treblinka extermination camp.
