WAYS TO BUILD COMMUNITY IN YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD

1. Get to know your neighbors. If you can't name more than a neighbor or two, it's time to introduce yourself. Even if you've lived in your home for a while, this first introduction doesn't need to be awkward or a big production. Simply smile and say, "Hey, I've been meaning to introduce myself..."
2. Hang out on your porch or in your front yard. It's hard to get to know your neighbors if you don't ever see them. Just by being out in front of your house you can give off a welcoming vibe that encourages interaction.
3. Be respectful of your neighbors. Don't be that guy/girl. Clean up after your dog and keep him leashed at all times. Be aware of any disturbing noise levels that you are creating. Maintain your property and respect property boundaries.
4. Welcome new families. You can bring a traditional baked good, but another great idea is welcoming newcomers by sharing your favorite local restaurants and businesses, perhaps a stack of your favorite take-out menus wrapped up in ribbon.
5. Address concerns or issues directly with your neighbor. Don't let a problem fester and escalate. And, don't immediately call to report a problem to the city and Town Board without first trying to work it out with your neighbor directly and respectfully.
6. Be friendly. Don't be the grouch on the street, or the person who never says, "Hi!" No matter our temperaments, we can all smile and wave.

Tips from the United States Senate Special Committee on Aging for Avoiding Scams

To convince you to give them money and personal information, scammers will often:

- Force you to make decisions fast and may threaten you.
- Use fake caller IDs to disguise their real numbers.
- Pretend to be a government employee (e.g. IRS or Social Security Administration)
- Pressure you not to consult with friends and family.
- Urge you to hand over personal information like your Social Security number or account numbers.
- Always remember: if an offer sounds too good to be true, it most likely is!

If you receive a suspicious call, hang up and please call the U.S. Senate Special Committee on Aging's Fraud Hotline at 1-855-303-9470.

BE WELL CRISIS HOTLINE — 2-1-1

The Indiana Family and Social Services Administration offers the Be Well Crisis Helpline, a confidential resource available through Indiana 211 that will allow Hoosiers to call and speak with a trained counselor 24/7. The Be Well Crisis Helpline was established by FSSA's Division of Mental Health and Addiction in direct response to the elevated levels of stress and anxiety Hoosiers experience due to COVID-19 pandemic. In Indiana the program becomes part of the state's new Be Well Indiana initiative. Additional information about the mental health resources available to Hoosiers is available at BeWellIndiana.org.
