July 27, 2025 to Aug. 3, 2025

Dear Saints of FPC,

This Sunday we will be looking at Luke 11:1-11 and thinking about Jesus teaching us to pray.

Most every teacher of Jesus' era that had disciples taught them how to pray. This tell us that prayer is not just something we spout out it is something that requires study and discipline and commitment. It is interesting that the accounts of Jesus teaching the Lord's Prayer are different from Matthew to Luke. And, both are different from the version we use in Sunday morning worship. The differences are not contradictory and have more to do with varying perspective and cultural memory.

What we know is that God engages with us through prayer and we engage with God through our prayer. We know that Christian prayer is something we do together - not alone. The prayers that speak our relationship with God are in a plural voice, meaning we get to help one another find the words and recall the memories and dream the hopes of what it is to be a child of God and servant of Christ.

We earnestly invite you to come and help us be the gathered people of God in prayer this Sunday.

Yours in Christ's Service,

Will
