Kimberbell Twilight Boo-levard Bench Pillow

- › 38"x16" - comes in both machine embroidery and hand sewing versions. I had to do the hand sewing version, which was a lot of work but loads of fun! I purchased the fabric and embellishment kit from Shabby Fabrics in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho shortly after Thanksgiving giving me plenty of time before next Halloween to get it completed.

Dolores Roux-Jones

- › I made these for my older daughter and her roommate and I had to make one for me. I made these zipper bags too with decorated zippers real easy and take less than an hour.

Patti Voyles Polar Opposites

- › This is a kit I purchased years ago just because I loved the fabric which was included. Of course I bought extra because I didn't know when or who I would be making it for. It goes to my great-nephew Clayton. I love the pattern. Sue Handley quilted it. She included Happy Feet and Bear paws.

Patti Voyles Polar Bears and Penguins Matchup

- › I took some of the polar opposites fabrics and made a pattern from Quilts from the Quiltmaker's Gift that I was going to teach. It 's a great pattern to play matching games with a young child. This goes to my sister's grandson. It was quilted by Sue Handley.

Sue Bennorth

- › I took the Sarah Goer class last February and got an idea to complete a modern quilt. My friend Tina's daughter is an attorney for Warner Brothers and lives in Studio City in an updated home originally built in the 60s. I offered to make her a quilt, and her only guidance was modern and blues and grays. This is the result!!

Debbie Ackerman

> I made this quilt for my Aunt Angie, she loves butterflies, so I decided to use a panel. I ordered two but could not decide which one to use so I used them both, one on the front and one on the back. The blocks on the front of the quilt are from the Missouri Star's tutorial "Good Fortune".

- › Monday
Mavens took on the project of making Veteran quilts last month. This is the quilt I will be giving to Patti Voyles.

Dorce Fitzgerald

- › The first five quilts I made from fabric I had sitting around. The fabrics in the first three are some that my brother brought me back from India, and the last two are fabrics from my stash. Carol Carter quilted them all and made smaller wheelchair quilts.

Doryce Fitzgerald

> Quilts 2 and 3 using fabrics from India

Doryce Fitzgerald

› Quilts 4 and 5 with stash fabrics

Doryce Fitzgerald

- › This quilt has blocks from a block of the month we did at Monday Mavens. It was also quilted by Carol Carter and made from my stash fabrics.

Barbara Montejo

- › I made this in a class at “Road at Home” last month with Sandra Mollon.

Joan Anderson

I made some mug rugs for my grand kids.

Melissa Nilsen

I made this king-sized quilt for our bed. I've long wanted a quilt for our bed, but hesitated making one because our dogs get up on the bed and I didn't want it to get ruined, plus I don't enjoy quilting something that large on my domestic machine. I finally decided to just do a simple design and stitch in the ditch to quilt it, and if the dogs destroy it, I can always make another one.

Melissa Nilsen

From the Heart - this is a Missouri Star Quilt Co pattern. I made one last month, but once it was complete, I realized the pale grey background was too dark for my den, which doesn't get much light. So I sent it off to my cousin and made another one for me that uses a cream background. I bought more Woolies Flannel online from Missouri Star Quilt Co for the top and used Minky on the back. It's perfect to snuggle under on these chilly winter nights.

Melissa Nilsen

I had just enough Woolies Flannel fabric left over from the hearts quilt to make 2 wheelchair quilts. One is for the Seniors and one is for Cal Vets. Carol offered to quilt the one for the Seniors, and I quilted the other using a thick fleece backing.
