This is a wedding quilt for my Goddaughter and her husband. I'm a new quilter, and this was my first big project. It's king size.

It's from a kit, and the design is by Sarah J Designs. The fabric is by Marcus Fabrics.. And it was lovingly and beautifully quilted by Patty Vergon.

Not quite finished in time. Still needs binding as of this photo. A quilt as you go kit from Shabby Fabrics.

This quilt top kit was a door prize in 2017 one of several I won 😊.

“Blossom” is by Urban Chics (2007) & was donated by Candie’s.

It’s the only quilting I attempted during the pandemic lock down. 🤪

Who knows 🤔 how long it will take me to finish another. Lol

I just finished piecing this one. I have had the fabric for over 15 years. It was left over from one I did for one of my grandson's.

This will be going to our friend Roger who was a helicopter pilot in Vietnam. He won both the bronze and silver stars for his bravery by saving his comrades. We want him to know how much he is appreciated.

"The Sea Beckons". My sister bought a condo near Mission Bay, so I made this for a housewarming gift. It's a single block with a pieced curve, repeated throughout, just changing color and direction.

They have a king size bed and she wanted a long drop. It's the largest quilt I've ever made, at about 100" square, and I quilted it on my domestic machine, corner to corner, using free motion echoing the curves.

Kris Dolan handed out die cut eagles at the last quilters in the park and challenged us to make a lap quilt for a vet, so this is what I came up with. I used up scraps and designed on the fly.

Sue Bennorth

I have two pictures...it's a king sized quilt made using last month's workshop for my dear friend, Tina. There are two pictures.
