

SCVQG
Show and Share
Part 1
March 11, 2021

Ruth Honig

This is a Laura Heine Teeny Tiny Applique collage pattern . I made it out of scraps. I turned it into a 20x20 pillow. I liked making it so much my mother has sent me a box of scraps so I can make more. Or, maybe so she can clean up her quilt room.

Ruth Honig

Here is the completed pillow.

Jean Carter

Summer Fun at the Beach — I didn't attend the Tina Curran workshop, but Carol Carter gave me her leftover scraps. I combined them with inspiration from the Kimberbell pillow I shared last month to create a bench pillow of my own design.

Jean Carter

This is a Missouri Star star quilt. I made the block as a sample and it was so much fun I made a quilt. 55x66

Rhea Fetter

Six placemats
and a table runner for my sister

Sue Bennorth

Here's my Goldfinger
Beach Club quilt top....second
At the Beach version

Sue Bennorth

Three views of this top, here is first.

Sue Bennorth

Second view.

Sue Bennorth

Third view.

Sue Bennorth

Modern Quilt
- quilted

Sue Bennorth

Modern Quilt –
close up

Sue Bennorth

Modern Quilt – another
view

Melissa Nilsen

At The Beach. I attended Tina Curran's workshop and made this sweet little beach umbrella quilt. Mine is made entirely from scraps; it always makes me happy to find a home for little pieces of fabric! As I was making the beach towel blocks and umbrellas, I was worried that the wide variety of colors were too discordant, but as soon as I added the sashing, it all calmed down nicely. I chose not to applique the beach umbrellas on until I quilted it, and then added a little fiber fill under the umbrellas to make them pop up.

Melissa Nilsen

Carpenter's Star. My daughter asked me to make quilts for both her current roommate and her roommate from last semester. I sent her a few photos of quilts so they could choose a pattern, and then they let me know what colors to use. The roommate from last semester wanted a Carpenter's Star in black, dark blue, and dark green. I was worried that the dark colors wouldn't show up well on the black, but it ended up ok.

Dolores Roux-Jones

Continue with part 2!