2022 OPPORTUNITY QUILT

PENNY LAWRENCE

This is the National Quilt Museum 2021 Block of the Month quilt. This was my first quilt as you go. The top sashing was doubled so you did not have to turn under a narrow hem. It was fun quilting the blocks, sashing and borders using various rulers on a domestic machine.

CAROL CARTER

I made this mug rug from a Utube video from Lisa Capen Quilts. Free Pattern. Dimensions 8x 10 inches. Fun using scrap fabrics.

Here's the back.

JUDITH CHAFFEE

This one was to enter a contest called revitalize using certain red fabrics. I had it all finished except the rose when I realized I had the date wrong by a week.

JOYCE WILKINSON

I made this table runner from a raffle basket I won at the guild. It took less than 2 charm packs. I made it for the Girl Friend party at my daughter's. Marilou was the winner. She was so excited about it.

Five of my friends and I are completing this quilt from Lori Holt. We have been working on it 30 months. Four of us have our tops done. The other two are still working on their tops. The technique for the appliqué is flip and turn and hand stitched down. There are 68 hexies in the border. I told the girls to do the border first, otherwise they would not do it at the end. I hand stitched all mine while on a cross country with my youngest son 2019. He drove I stitched. It was wonderful. Now I have the three finished tops to quilt. This quilt took 30 hours to quilt.
