

THANKING AMY GREENBERG AND HER FRIENDS FOR THE NORTH SHORE AUTISM CIRCLE (NSAC)

BY PRASHANT GUPTA

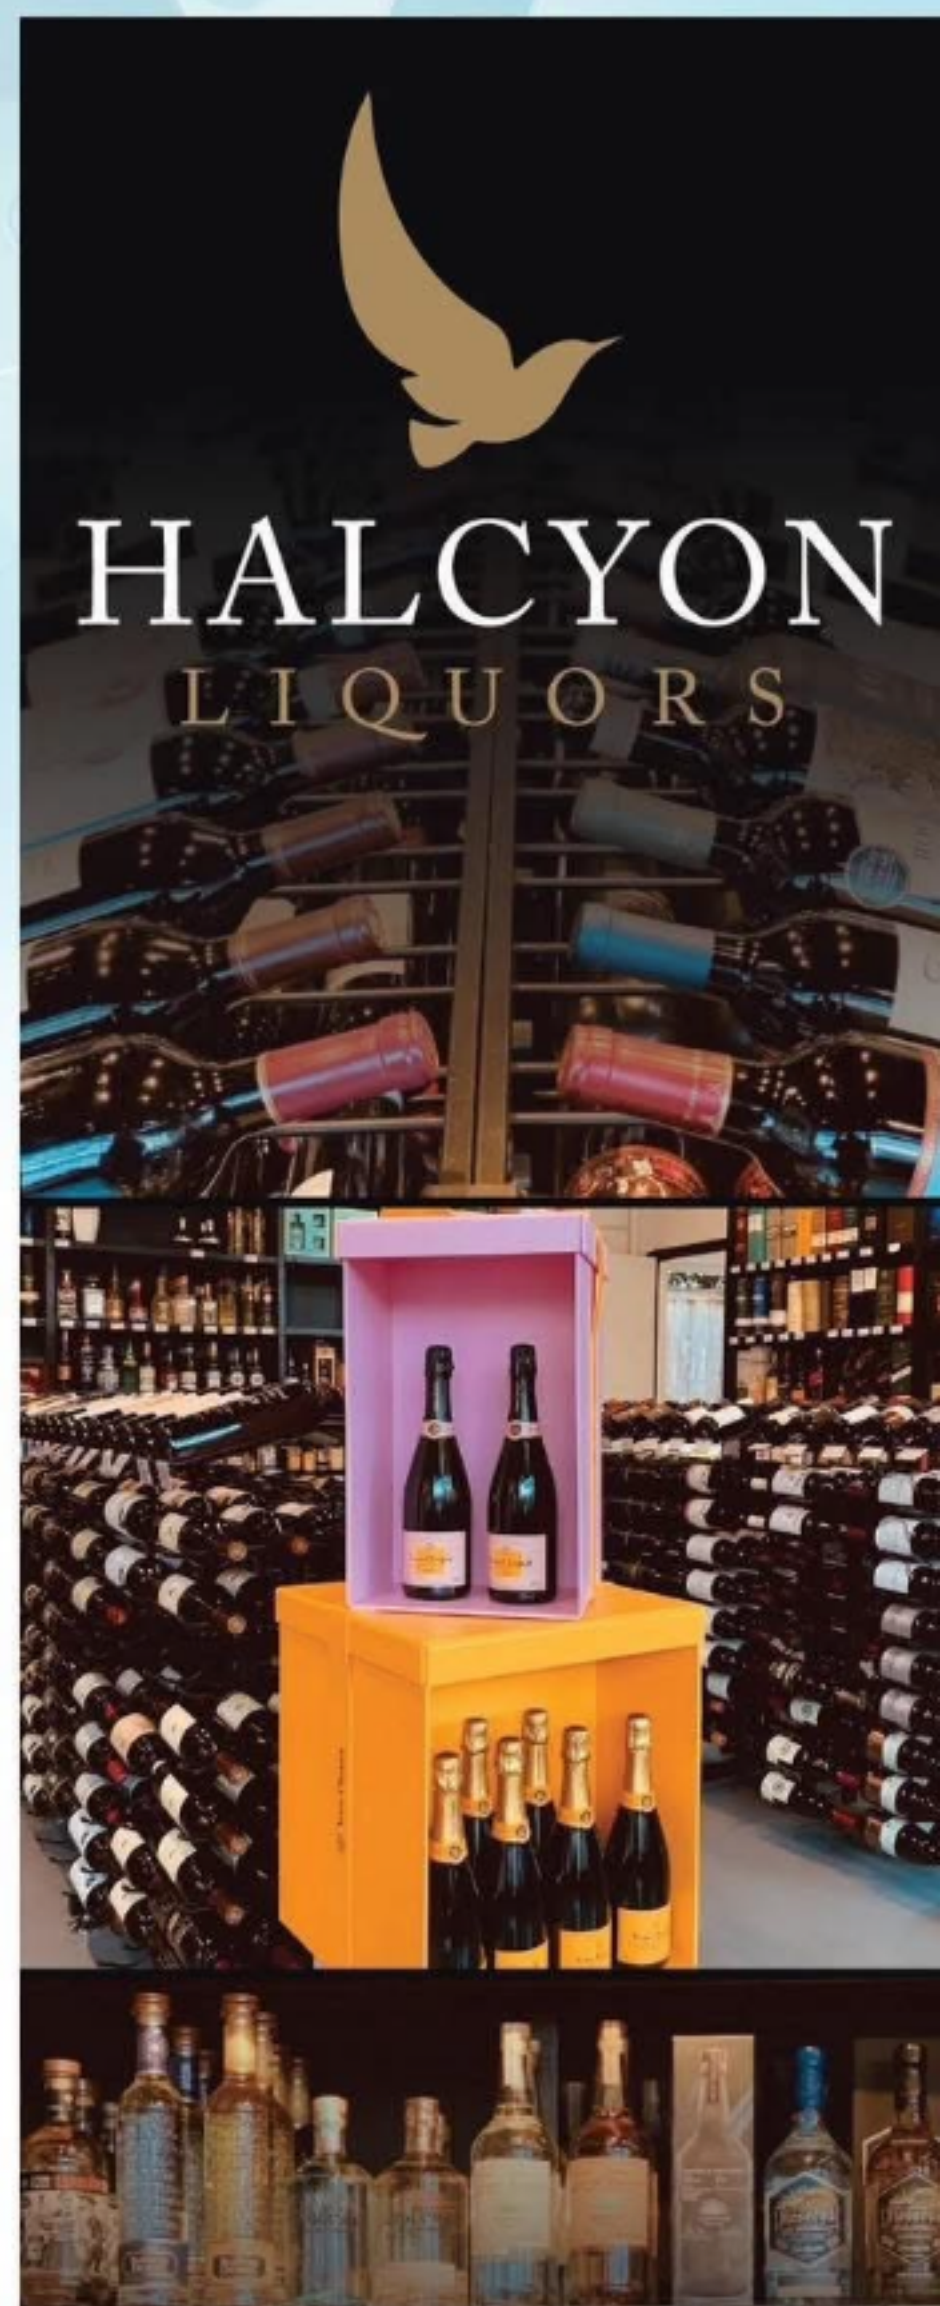

One of my favorite colleagues and friends in the community is longtime Roslyn resident (27 years and counting) Amy Greenberg. As we recognize April as Autism Awareness Month, there's no better time to highlight this incredible individual and the impactful work of North Shore Autism Circle (NSAC). In 2005, Amy and a group of Roslyn parents founded NSAC, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit dedicated to funding recreational, socialization, and peer mentoring programs for individuals with autism. Through grant-giving and partnerships with organizations such as the Sid Jacobson JCC, Camp Kehila, The Nassau County Museum of Art, Spectrum Designs, The Nicholas Center for Autism, and Life's WORC, NSAC has made a meaningful difference in the lives of so many.

This year, NSAC is funding several exciting initiatives, including music-based movement classes, nutritional life skills, and fitness programs at the Sid Jacobson JCC. The organization also provided new screen-printing machinery at Spectrum Designs, as well as washers and dryers at Spectrum Suds, creating more employment opportunities and essential life skills training for individuals on the spectrum. Additionally, NSAC supports socialization and inclusion programs within the Roslyn and Wheatley school districts.

Beyond her philanthropic work, Amy has built a thriving career in sales, as an industrial food broker with S. Kamberg and Co. and also as a real estate agent with the Schwartzberg Butner Team at Douglas Elliman. Working alongside a powerhouse team—many of whom have personal connections to the special needs community—Amy is passionate about helping special needs families, first-time homebuyers, empty nesters, and renters find their perfect homes across Nassau and Suffolk Counties. She has also partnered with a colleague in Florida to assist local residents in securing second homes in the Sunshine State.

Amy recently helped organize NSAC's first 2025 fundraising event, the Dinks and Drinks Pickleball Fundraiser on March 1st. Partnering with the Holes for Hope committee, a group of Roslyn friends who are more like family, the event was a tremendous success in supporting NSAC's mission. When asked about her greatest achievements, Amy doesn't hesitate—being a devoted mom to her children, Hannah (27, on the spectrum) and Drew (24), as well as a loving wife to Evan. She proudly considers herself an "OG" of the Roslyn community, embodying its spirit and heart.

For more information on supporting or learning about North Shore Autism Circle, visit their charity website at www.northshoreautismcircle.org or reach out to Amy at 516-860-7826.

OPEN 7 DAYS
Delivery available

TASTINGS EVERY FRIDAY & SATURDAY

BARTENDING SERVICES AVAILABLE FOR EVENTS

10% OFF ALL WINE CASES

52 GLEN COVE ROAD
ROSLYN, NY 11577

(516)-625-0517

orders@halcyonliquors.com

halcyonliquors.com