

For more information contact
Ivy@Ivy-Network.com

Edge Women's Leadership Programs

The Edge Model is a three-pronged approach specially designed by The Ivy Network, LLC founder and CEO, Ivy Algazy. Recognizing the unique experiences and demands of professional women, Ivy created this comprehensive approach leading women through steps that include introspection, learning women-centered skills and creating a complete strategy to bring into your work place and life.

Introspection gives you an opportunity to explore who you truly are, what you really want and how you can reach our vision.

Skills focus on topics specific to women providing concrete approaches that strengthen and create more confident women leaders.

Build your own comprehensive "tool-box" of strategies and a vision to realize your potential, purpose and success, raising your power and influence.

Leading with Edge Sessions 2019

Session 1: March 1, 2019

Introspection: The Authentic You

When was the last time you took an honest look at yourself? Do you know the Authentic You? Leadership is not only understanding the qualities of those you lead, but also a frank understanding of who you are as a leader. Leadership might be in your DNA, yet you might not see the obstacles that impede women from maximizing their leadership capabilities. This session raises awareness and shares how to leap those hurdles that hinder women from being empowered leaders.

Session 3: March 15, 2019

Lead Like a Leader

Not every leader leads like a leader. This session clarifies what it takes to be an accomplished respected leader, one your team will want to follow! You'll fill your toolbox with essential leadership skills like emotional intelligence, leadership presence, visioning and more. Learn how to be more aware of, manage and understand your emotions, as well as those of your colleagues and co-workers. Get tips on how to handle interpersonal relationships in the workplace. Discover how you can improve and advance your standing as an executive by increasing your executive presence.

Session 5: April 5, 2019

Empowering Your Connection

Building your network is essential to developing your business. It's not just about going to events and collecting business cards, it's about creating an empowered network.. Gain an in-depth understanding about how-to stand out and be the go-to person. Discover how to create and maintain an influential network, making you a more sought after connector. Networking is also about building your internal network. We will share strategies how create a strong internal network, how to find the right mentor and/or sponsor and how to orchestrate powerful conversations which encourage collaboration, sponsorship and propel your career forward.

Tuition: $2900.00 includes all course manual, all materials, refreshments, & membership into The Ivy Network Inner Circle.

Classes meet 8:30—11:30 am

Holiday Inn Plainview, 215 Sunnyside Blvd, Plainview, NY 11803

Session 2: March 8, 2019

Mind Over Matter – Managing Your Perspective

The Edge model is based on our life experience influencing our perspective, mindset & forming our confidence, or lack of. This session highlights how to shift this paradigm, refreshing your mindset to a more positive, productive and confident approach. Learn how to use skills like women's intuition, giving yourself permission and setting realistic smart goals with your new mindset. We'll show you how to add analytical methodologies to decision using a holistic approach. Add new women-focused skills to your tool box!

Session 4: March 22, 2019

Lead like a woman

In sessions 1 & 2, you have introspected, learned to be the authentic you, and have a greater understanding of hurdling the obstacles that hold you back. Session 3 taught you the skills to good leadership, now learn how to integrate the authentic you and your refreshed leadership skills into your vision and lead like a woman. Why lead like a woman? Because you are a woman and women have tremendous abilities to lead. Create your leadership action plan by developing a vision, planning the steps and communicating that vision. Learn to integrate the vital skills to complete your strategy and be on your way to achieving your personal and professional vision.

Session 6: April 12, 2019

Turning Adversity to Your Benefit

Learn how to embrace setbacks and make conflict your tool to gain achievement and success. In this session learn how to use coaching tools to tackle the most demanding challenges that professional women face today. Formulate creative solutions to improve your leadership proficiencies and engagement levels, increase your business performance and make a greater impact at work. We will target problems that challenge you in your personal and professional lives sharing a multi-dimensional approach to establishing a more fulfilling, well-rounded life.

Ivy Algazy is the CEO & Founder of The Ivy Network, LLC., the mastermind behind the Annual Collaborate with Edge Leadership Conference and the Director of the LIA's Women's Collaborative. She started The Ivy Network, LLC in 2014, teaching her innovative Edge Women's Leadership curriculum to 100's of women; creating stronger bolder women leaders.

Ivy's multifaceted career began as an educator and continued in leadership training, not for profit fundraising & engagement, women's issues and more. Prior to opening her company, Ivy held positions as the AHA "Go Red for Women" Director and the Director of Community Outreach for Women's Health at Northwell Health System, which gained her a reputation as a subject matter expert in women's topics. Ivy's career and life experiences were the catalyst for developing the Edge Leadership model. She is currently adapting the Edge model to be used with multi-gender audiences as a way to create a more equitable workplace.

Ivy is a graduate of the SUNY Regents College and earned her Coaching Certification from The Institute for Professional Excellence in Coaching (iPEC) and has a Certificate of High-Performance Leadership from Cornell University.

Ivy currently writes for several publications including Forbes.com. She is also a member of the Forbes Greater NY Business Council.