

To a Very Special Granddaughter

P1

You are a precious gift sent from above

To give such sweet, unconditional love.

You bring such joy with just a hug or a kiss.

You are a granddaughter to be missed.

Once, you were just a wee baby,

And now you've grown into a lovely, young lady.

Your wit and charm have no equal.

Your spirit is forever gleeful.

You bring joy and comfort to everyone.

And on a cloudy day, you are the sun.

As the years drift by, one by one,

You are a precious gift, as if gold spun.

You are loved, no doubt, in equal measure -

Truly any grandparent's special treasure.

P2

When you were just a tiny baby,

No one could imagine you'd become such an amazing lady.

From the crib to college,

You've always valued knowledge.

Your commitment to your dreams is like no other.

These, no one can put asunder.

An admirable gal are you!

Anyone your equal is among a remarkable few.

You've accomplished more than most,

And yet never once do you boast.

No one could be more proud.
It begs to be shouted out loud,
You're the best granddaughter around!

P3

Although you have left the nest,
There is one thing that is very clear.
To those who love you best,
You are forever most dear!
And so, it is with great pride,
Putting selfish desires aside,
That you are wished a life of love,
Filled with much peace and joy,
A happy home,
And a partner to call your own.
And perhaps one day, you, too,
Will have a grandchild, just like you!
