Critical Decision Making and Use of Force Interactive Training

This one-of-a-kind intensive training course will help prepare officers of all tenures to make better individual decisions based on best practice guidelines and legal standards. Students will receive classroom instruction on Use of Force Legal Standards. Students will then participate in multiple individual decision-making scenarios to hone their skills and receive feedback from industry leading instructors!

This is not a “SWAT” course. This is excellent material for new officers or senior officers and leadership!

This is a mix of classroom training and interactive non-contact practical decision-making scenarios. All training equipment will be provided.
