

AIRLEAP Session with the Society of Governmental Economists at the 2015
Allied Social Science Associations Annual Meetings

January 4, 2015, Boston, MA

Exploring the Potential for Improvements in Economics Education (A2)

Presiding: Deirdre N. McCloskey, University of Illinois-Chicago and AIRLEAP

1. Training the Ethical Economist, George DeMartino, University of Denver
2. When Is Flipping Effective in Teaching Economics? Two Experiments in ‘Active’ Learning, Richard Anderson and Areerat Kichkha, Lindenwood University
3. The Economic Arguments for Government-Sponsored, Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs) in Economics, Steven Payson and Kenneth Payson, AIRLEAP
4. The Case for Including Economic Thought in the Education of Business Students, Brian W. Sloboda and Anita Cassard, University of Phoenix
5. Valuing ‘Free’ Entertainment in GDP, Rachel Soloveichik, U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis

Discussants:

Seth Giertz, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Reza Kheirandish, Clayton State University

Mark Costa, Sustain Software

Shabnam Mousavi, Johns Hopkins University

Amelie F. Constant, Institute for the Study of Labor and George Washington University