Additional information _____

As your licensed propane dealer, we strive to provide you with the safest products and services. In 2010, the International Fuel Gas Code (IFGA) introduced a new law stating that any person working on a propane system must notify the licensed propane dealer before the work is done. The new law also requires the customer (you) to notify your licensed propane dealer (us) of any change or repair to your propane system. If there is a problem, and you did not notify us, then we may not be responsible.

According to the 2012 IFGA, one or more unvented heaters or logs shall not be used as the only source of heat in a residence. Unvented room heaters are not intended for continuous use as would occur if they were the only source of heat in a building. One or more unvented room heaters used as the sole source of heat would not provide adequate heat distribution in most building arrangements.

If you choose not to fulfill your responsibilities by altering your system in any way, you will be responsible for any personal or property damage that occurs. We reserve the right to refuse service and pick up our tank if made aware of any unlawful changes.

By signing this document, you are acknowledging that you are aware of your responsibilities, completely understand your liability and have provided us with the most accurate information in reference to your heating system and appliances.
