

Custom TV Lift Cabinets

Extra Customer Information:

To ensure we custom-build the cabinet to the perfect size, we need to know where it will be placed. For instance, will it sit at the foot of a bed, or will it function as a standalone piece? If it's going in front of a bed, we would need to know the bed size (e.g., double, king) so we can tailor the width accordingly.

We can finish the cabinet in any Farrow & Ball eggshell colour of your choice, applied with a professional HVLP spray gun for a professional result. It would be a good idea to buy some tester pots from a local B&Q type store to decide. Please find a link below to Farrow & Ball's website to consider your colour choices:

Link to website: <https://www.farrow-ball.com/paint/modern-eggshell?p=2>

The cabinets are made from MDF in a shaker style and constructed with professional joinery techniques (not just beading glued onto the front, as many sold online are). Further along in this pdf are some photos of a cabinet we recently made for a 50" TV; of course, the design adapts seamlessly to larger or smaller TV's.

Pricewise, our price is dependent on final size and finish, style chosen. Giving us the information below will help us give a final price.

Example: for a 50-65" shaker style MDF painted TV cabinet delivered from where we are in Exeter to London (235 miles taking 3h 57m both ways); it would be £2,500. This includes delivery to any London postcode, mounting your TV to the lift mechanism, positioning the cabinet, and leaving it fully operational. We will deliver anywhere from our location in Exeter within about a 4 hour drive. The TV lift mechanism is included in the price. We purchase this in the clients name and address, but have it delivered to us, so the warranty remains yours directly with the manufacturer.

Our price covers the custom cabinet build, materials, paint, spray-painting, the lift mechanism, delivery, and setup. We also guarantee our craftsmanship on the cabinet itself. Once we confirm all details, the build and delivery timeframe is typically 2-3 weeks.

Payment is made in full upfront, similar to a shop purchase. After the client confirms that they wish to go ahead, we raise an invoice, which the customer can pay via bank transfer, and we'll begin building once the payment is received. This helps ensure we don't start work until everything is confirmed on both sides.

For the TV lift mechanism, we typically use models with remote controls and programmable presets, allowing you to custom set the lift height and lower it with a single click. I'd be happy to send you the exact specifications if you'd like.

While we've never had issues with the mechanisms, registering it in your name ensures you can contact the manufacturer directly if anything arises down the line (we can't repair any electrical components ourselves, so this feels like the safest approach). To match the mechanism to your TV, could you please give the full details of the make and model of your television? This enables us to check the VESA mount and weight of your TV.

You will need to consider power access to the cabinet. For example, if it's going at the foot of a bed, a long extension lead run under the bed could work (provided the bed is raised and won't crush the cord). In that regard, the power supply would need to be ready for the installation date.

Also relevant to the power supply, we would need to know where the power input will be located so we can cut an access point in the right place. We don't supply the extension lead (or TV), but we do supply everything else, including the cabinet, mechanism, paint, delivery, and setup. This is all included in the price.

If you prefer a more modern look, we also offer oak (or other) veneer finishes, though these are slightly higher cost.

Please let me know if you have any questions or if there's anything else I can clarify or help with.
