

CultureNut Xchange is a global agora, a marketplace where cultural institutions can communicate with one another to buy, sell and exchange idle inventory, assets and products.

Utilizing a global distribution platform and database, CultureNut will provide the cultural community including museums, science centers, historic homes, zoos, libraries and others to sell excess inventory (exhibitions, exhibits, furniture, cases, hardware, media, computers, exhibitory, crates, frames, etc).

Let's get rid of that junk in your trunk. There is an institution ready to put that idle asset of yours to good use. Your CFO will appreciate you for making your institution a little GREEN while proving your institution's commitment to sustainability initiatives.

When you recycle, a percentage of proceeds will go to charity.

It's easy-peasy to join CultureNut. This is what we need.

1. Institution Name
2. Contact Name, Email, Office and Mobile #
3. Description of the sale: 250 words or less
4. Up to 10 images of the sale - high resolution only
