Mission Appeal for the Persecuted Church in Zaria Diocese, Nigeria

On August 3-4, we will have our annual mission appeal for the church's missionary activities throughout the world. Fr. Maximilian Francis Buluma, originally from the Archdiocese of Mwanza, Tanzania in East Africa, will speak at all the Masses. A second collection will be taken up at all the Masses that weekend for the Archdiocese of Mwanza. Please be as generous as you can to help our brothers and sisters in Mwanza.

My name is Fr. Maximilian Francis Buluma and I am originally from the Archdiocese of Mwanza, located in the northwestern part of Tanzania. An East African country, Tanzania is bordered by Rwanda, Burundi, Congo, Kenya, and Uganda.

The Archdiocese of Mwanza is struggling to better serve its people. An urgent need is education. We would like to establish a kindergarten in order to build up a strong faith foundation for children, as well as to construct secondary schools for girls to provide them with a better education, so that they be better equipped for their future.

Vocations are another need. We are working hard to develop the formation of future priests. Right now, we have 86 seminarians, but the widespread poverty and lack of resources in Tanzania is affecting our ability to accept more vocations. We would like to train more seminarians to become ordained priests, both for our own Diocese and to send others overseas as missionaries.

We are also coordinating water projects for our people in the rural areas, creating both shallow wells and boreholes for domestic use and to care for animals.

However, the greatest need of the Archdiocese is caring for the great number of orphans in Mwanza. These are children whose parents are absent—one or both parents, but especially the mother. The most common reason for a child becoming an orphan is the death of the mother during childbirth or before the baby is five years of age. Many of these parents have HIV/AIDS.

Another reason for the large number of orphans is the situation surrounding the baby's birth. It should be understood that in some parts of Africa, children are expected to be born after marriage. When a girl gets pregnant out of wedlock, she will not get a husband to marry her because her reputation has been ruined. It is considered shameful not only to her family, but the entire community she lives in. Girls live in fear of this. When it happens that a young woman becomes pregnant outside of marriage, this stigma makes her look for ways to avoid shame for herself, her family, and community. Options young women typically think of are having an abortion, committing suicide (either while pregnant or after delivering), killing the baby if the baby is born alive, or leaving the baby with her parents or other relatives and disappearing to places unknown.

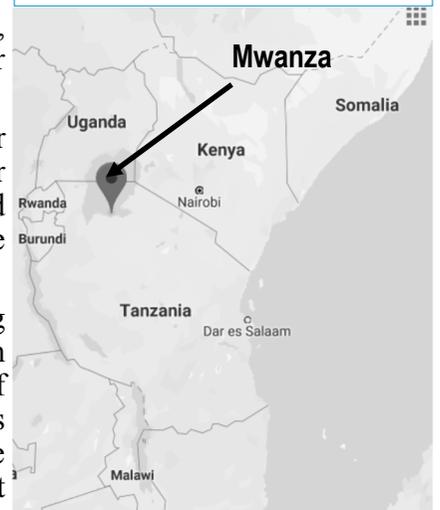

We desperately need moral and financial support so that we can take care of these children. Funds are especially needed for:

- Healthcare and immunizations as these children are very susceptible to diseases, especially when they are left alone after their mother's death.
- Food, shelter, clothing, and other basic needs and necessities.
- Spiritual and intellectual education and moral support when they get to be of school age.
- Pay for the ones who help in this project.

Thank you in advance for your prayers and your kind and generous support. May the Lord reward your generosity and bless your families.

*Fr. Maximilian
Francis Buluma*

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Fr. Maximilian Francis Buluma

Growing in Faith

The beginning of the book of Ecclesiastes, the first reading for the 18th Sunday in Ordinary Time, is the famous line: “Vanity of vanities, . . . vanity of vanities! All things are vanity!”

According to some translators, the word “vanity” isn’t exactly right, and some versions have the opening words as “Everything is meaningless” or “Pointless! Pointless!” Famed translator of the Hebrew Bible, Robert Alter, renders it: “Merest breath, . . . merest breath. All is mere breath,” explaining that “mere breath” isn’t the taking in of life-giving air, but the exhalation of the unusable vapor, the small quickly disappearing white cloud that is visible when you breathe out on a very cold day.

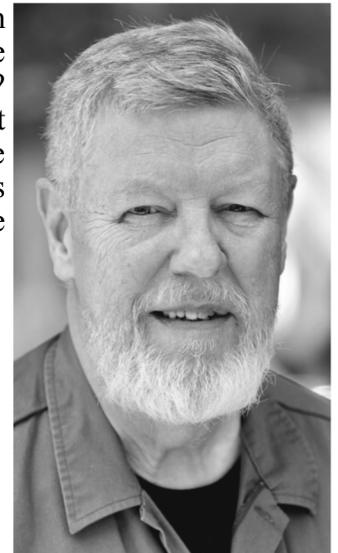

The rest of the Bible sees God as more or less involved in human destiny, and, despite the many bad things that happen, there is much hope that, by living a good and moral life, the righteous will win some divine reward and the wicked will be damned. Not so the subversively grim Ecclesiastes, a bleak book which asserts that life is short and hard and ends with death. Period. “All his days sorrow and grief are his occupation; even at night his mind is not at rest.”

So why was it included in the canon of the Bible? I think it’s there as a contrast and a challenge to faith. Am I willing to hope in the face of such a desolate view? Will I have faith and act right despite the randomness and unfairness of life and the unavoidability of death?

Well, will I?

Changes to the Mass Schedule

I'd like to take this opportunity to give you an update on our ongoing Sunday Mass schedule plans. As you know, during this past (school) year we increased the number of "Combined" Masses to about one per month. This was to try out this schedule to see how well it accommodated everyone.

The parish staff, in evaluating this experiment, found it was a great improvement in a number of areas, including: a better level of participation when there were more people gathered in church at one time; a more robust musical experience enhancing people's involvement and adding an additional, positive dynamic to our worship; a better opportunity for hospitality after the 10:30 am Mass because we didn't have to have everyone cleared out before the 11:30 am Mass; and the possibility of more ministers regularly available for all the Masses.

We found the schedule to be so effective that we are going to try it out in the regular (school) year after Labor Day. Which means our current "summer" schedule will continue as our regular schedule for weekend Masses (Saturday 5:00 pm, Sunday 8:00 am and 10:30 am, and the 10:30 (Gym) Mass.) In preparation, I recently informed the 9:30 am (Sheridan Road) Mass that their last Mass will be on the Sunday of Labor Day weekend. For some years, their attendance has veered downward so there are rarely even thirty-five people at that Mass. Also, while its original intent was to provide a local Mass for seniors, especially those with any physical limitations, most seniors and persons with disabilities come to the church for Mass. We will have a special celebration at their final Mass to commemorate the many years of worship at that site.

The other change is that there will be no 11:30 am Mass as we move forward. And we hope to have the 10:30 (Gym) Mass come to the 10:30 am Mass in church once a month.

During the (school) year, we will also invite every parishioner to reflect and share their own thoughts, opinions and ideas on the Sunday schedule. At the June Parish Pastoral Council (PPC) meeting, the members unanimously adopted a proposal which will begin after Labor Day, in which individuals members of the PPC will invite conversations with individuals and small groups to gather data about people's experiences at the Masses and what they feel is most important about scheduled times for Masses, the various charisms or unique dimensions of various Masses, and how we might better incorporate those positive elements into more Masses.

Among the input we hope parishioners will share with the PPC members are considerations such as whether or not the schedule meets not only the question of convenience, but also the question of necessity. What would the ideal schedule look like? Which Mass do I want to attend, AND which Mass do I need to attend because of work or other considerations? Along with that data, the slightly more difficult information about what are the characteristics, charisms, etc. in any of the particular Masses and how those can be sure to be continued in whatever the schedule ends up being. For example, some Masses offer hospitality on a fairly regular basis: the 9:30 am has once a month hospitality, the 10:30 am (Gym) Mass has weekly hospitality, and the monthly 10:00 am Family Mass has offered hospitality. This is a very positive value and therefore one we want to be sure we respect and maintain as we go forward. Besides these smaller conversation with members of the PPC, we also will have one or more town halls offered to gather people's thoughts and opinions on the schedule.

Finally, a word about "rules" for these conversations. It is important for this be a positive discussion. Everyone knows change is difficult. That's the given. But how we approach the change makes all the difference! That we have to change to better reflect our present reality is not a punishment on anyone. It is simply a reflection on reality. Intransigent, non-negotiable points aren't helpful. And no bullying will be allowed. Of course there is often a lot of emotion around certain topics. But civility is requested and required for the conversations. This is as true for the individual and small group conversations as it will be for the town hall gatherings.

From a slightly broader picture, I think this is a good practice for all of us as we anticipate the Renew My Church process coming in the fall of next year. As I consider what all this will mean, it seems only fair that both the pain and the good that comes from the change(s) should be equally distributed, as much as is possible.

Parish Council Minutes

Below are the minutes from the last Parish Pastoral Council (PPC) meeting, held on Thursday, June 29.

The PPC had the opportunity to review the latest regarding the mission statement process. Members will reflect over the summer and the PPC will finalize a mission statement in the fall. Additionally, for further reflection, the chair requested that PPC members reflect over the summer as to whether they would like to continue to serve on the PPC and/or to identify potential new members to join the group.

Bylaws: The PPC approved the proposed bylaws (pending minor revisions) unanimously.

Proposal for Sunday Mass Schedule: The PPC had the opportunity to discuss the proposed changes to the Mass schedule and expressed, along with Fr. Rich, a desire to identify the distinguishing components of the various impacted masses that can ultimately be incorporated into the new Mass schedule. The PPC encourages a welcoming environment for all during this transformation of the parish.

Parish Commissions: Leaders of various parish ministries should expect, over the summer, PPC members to begin to contact them and begin the process of introductions. In the fall, these ministry leaders should expect to engage in one-on-ones with PPC members as well as meetings across the commissions.

PPC Survey: The PPC conducted its first ever survey of itself as an entity and individual members of the PPC. This information sets a baseline for reflection so that the PPC may always reflect on its efficacy and growth. The PPC will annually assess itself in the spring of each year.

The next PPC meeting will be Thursday, September 26 at 7:00 pm in the Ministry Center.

Interested in Being Catholic?

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) is a process by which adults learn more about the Catholic Church. This free program begins in the fall and meets until Pentecost.

Many people who begin RCIA are non-Catholics seeking to become Catholic or at least to explore whether Catholicism might be a good home. Those who complete the process and decide to become Catholic are initiated into the Church at the Easter Vigil Mass on Holy Saturday. Others who take RCIA are already Catholic but want a deeper understanding of their faith foundation.

The RCIA process does not ask those who have been baptized in another faith to give up their denominational experiences. Rather, the RCIA process seeks to add new colors and designs to their existing faith life tapestry. In addition to attending Mass, the RCIA process includes weekly gatherings of breaking open the Word of God, sharing our stories, and learning about our faith traditions.

For information about the RCIA process at St. Gertrude or to register for the program, contact me at kchears@stgertrudechicago.org or call the Rectory at 773.764.3621.
