From Fr. Rich

The Fourth Sunday of Lent

Well into the heart of the Lenten season, in Sunday's scripture readings we hear three passages of the extraordinary things God has done and continues to do for God's people. Namely, reconciliation!

In the first reading, after having cared for the people wandering in the desert for 40 years, and satisfying their nutritional needs by providing manna, Sunday's reading marks the end of the wandering and, for the first time in 40 years, they no longer needed the manna, because their new land provides them with their food.

In the second reading from St. Paul's letter to the Corinthians, St. Paul offers this succinct summation of the reconciliation God offers us through Christ Jesus.

And in the Gospel, the breath-taking story of what we have come to call The Prodigal Son. This parable makes it clear that God holds no grudges, God only wants us back in good relationship with God and always forgives all our sins, holding nothing against us.

E-Bulletin for the Fourth Sunday of Lent

March 27, 2022

I suspect we all have stories and memories of what we might call “partial reconciliations”. By which I mean times when we have found our way to forgive or be forgiven for the wrongs done, but still lingering over those supposed reconciliations was the taint of a begrudging cooperation -- we say we forgive and we say we accept the other person’s expression of forgiveness -- but still we treat them and ourselves differently. It actually means, that despite our spoken words, we haven’t yet been able to embrace and truly accept and live that forgiveness.

But that is not how God forgives! God forgives and holds no grudges. God is not in heaven practicing the “silent treatment” which would let us know God is not at all happy with us. That is simply not God’s way. As we see in the Gospel story, the father can barely contain the enthusiasm and joy that accompanies the return of the loved son who has done so much intentional damage to his father and their relationship. He holds on to none of that! Rather, he completely embraces (physically, but also emotionally) this now-returning son, without hesitation, returning him to his status as a loved son, refusing to re-hash any of the sins and betrayals and insults of the past.

We don’t know what resurrection looks like in the world. We know his own disciples did not recognize the risen Lord. So perhaps we shouldn’t be surprised that is equally true when it comes to the new life reconciliation brings. If it looks and smells and tastes and feels just like the way things used to be -- big, red “caution” flags should be waving in our faces! When we really practice reconciliation, it is not about what was, but about the new life that is just beginning.

This might be a good week to ask God to help us start letting go of the scars and the wounds and the hurts of yesterdays long gone. God has no desire that we wallow in guilt and shame and emotional self-abuse for what we said or did in the past. Only that we recognize and acknowledge we were wrong, accept forgiveness and move into the new life of this moment.

Lenten Reconciliation Service

Everyone is invited to join in the Parish Lenten Reconciliation Service next Sunday, April 3 at 1:00 pm in church. This is a reflective service, offering music, scripture, and a guided reflection/examination of conscience and then absolution. This service is under an hour and a great time for some quiet reflection in this Lenten season.

Holy Week

It doesn't seem possible Palm Sunday is in three weeks -- ushering us into Holy Week, but it is! As I mentioned in an earlier column, the protocols of Holy Week this year are much less restrictive than the last two years during the pandemic. As things now stand, here's what we expect:

Palm Sunday Masses will all have the Blessing of Palms in the courtyard between the church and the Ministry Center (weather-permitting). At the Saturday 5:00 pm and the Sunday 8:00 am Masses, immediately following the blessing, we will process out of the courtyard and into the church through the front doors. At the 10:30 am (Combined) Mass, we will bless palms and then process around the block (weather-permitting) and then into church through the front doors.

Holy Thursday Mass of the Lord's Supper will still have some of the pandemic restrictions. The most evident is the limited washing of feet. This year, we will have the candidates for entrance into the Catholic Church at the Easter Vigil Mass (RCIA Catechumen and Candidates) represent various groups of people that Pope Francis keeps reminding us are on the peripheries, and it is up to us to move them into the center of our church and our lives. The procession of the Blessed Sacrament at the end of Mass returns to its usual format this year.

Good Friday Service of the Lord's Passion once again will restrict Veneration of the Cross to only non-touching types of veneration (e.g. a bow, a genuflection, a brief moment in silence before the cross). The rest of this service should be pretty much as it usually has been before the pandemic.

Holy Saturday Easter Vigil Mass -- this year everyone will once again receive a taper on their way into church, which is lit from the newly lighted Paschal Candle, while the Exsultet is sung. We will use the large crystal bowl for baptisms in front of the altar, instead of erecting the pool in the sanctuary. The rest of the Easter Vigil should look pretty much as it did pre-pandemic.

Easter Sunday Masses should also pretty much look like pre-pandemic -- with the exception that Communion is still limited to reception in the hand (not on the tongue) and there will be no distribution of the Precious Blood. (Or, as one parishioner recently said to me, "I don't think we're ever going back to having the cup in church." And I suspect that may be true!)

As I have tried to caution before, we won't know any of this as certainty until we are closer to Holy Week. It is frightening that the number of COVID cases has increased in certain parts of the world -- but not yet here in the United States. And while I know we all hope that will be true, we will have to be prudent for our own health and safety and that of everyone with whom we come into contact.

Parish Pastoral Council

The Parish Pastoral Council (PPC) is looking for new members that are more reflective of the diversity in the parish. We are hoping to include NCA school parents, youth group parents, new members from St. Ignatius, and parishioners who may not have been active, but would like to be more involved. Please consider joining the PPC in time for our next scheduled meeting on Thursday, April 28 at 7:00 pm. Email me at rprendergast@stgertrudechicago.org for details.

Pray for Ukraine/How to Help

If you would like to donate to the care of the Ukrainian people, please consider making a contribution to Catholic Relief Services for emergency aid to the people in Ukraine: <https://support.crs.org/donate/donate-ukraine>.

A Prayer for Ukraine

The Rev. Dr. Inderjit Bhogal, Honorary President of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, has written a prayer for use during this time of heightening tensions in the Ukraine.

Holy God, we hold before you all who live close to war and conflict; and all who live close to the threat of war and violence.

We remember especially at this time, people in Ukraine and Russia. We pray for nonviolent and peaceful resolutions of conflict.

Give to us all hearts of hospitality and sanctuary, forgive us all our hostility and hatred.

Bring all people to the humanity you give us, and to the reconciliation and healing for which you give your life.

Strengthen us all to work with you to build justice and peace, reconciliation and healing, in our hearts and homes, in our streets, in all communities, neighborhoods, and nations.

Bless all who live lives for the peace and wellbeing of others, and make their service fruitful.

In the name of Christ.

Amen.

Pope Francis has invited people everywhere—and he is specifically reaching out to the LGBTQ+ community—to take part in a conversation about their relationship with the Church, and about its future.

Synodality: Opportunities to Participate at an Event at St. Gertrude on March 27, via Zoom, and by Submitting Reflections

Pope Francis invites the laity worldwide to participate in the 2021-2023 Synod by offering our reflections journeying together as the Universal Church in the areas of Communion, Participation, and Mission.

Synodality is Spirit-filled listening to God's active presence in each of our lives. This is a wonderful way for us to move forward as the Renew My Church consolidation process is coming to conclusion.

The purpose of this Synod is not to produce documents, but to plant dreams, draw forth prophecies and visions, allow hope to flourish, inspire trust, bind up wounds, weave together relationships, awaken a dawn of hope, learn from one another, and create a bright resourcefulness that will enlighten minds, warm hearts, and give strength to our hands.

Ways to Participate

You are invited to be part of the sharing in three different ways:

- An in-person gathering at St. Gertrude in the church on Sunday, March 27 from 12:00-1:30 pm. This will be an open discussion, with notes taken and sent to the Archdiocese.
- Any or all of the following virtual sessions with laity from other nearby parishes. You can join online by going to zoom.us/join and using the Meeting ID and passcode provided or by calling (312) 626-6799:
 - Thursday, March 24 at 7:00 pm (Meeting ID: 814 3978 3310; Passcode: 820376)
 - Friday, March 25 at 7:00 pm (Meeting ID: 898 9999 0278; Passcode: 852477)
 - Saturday, March 26 at 7:00 pm (Meeting ID: 871 9707 7905; Passcode: 235618)
- Reflections in any language can be entered until Friday, April 1 at archchicago.org/news-and-events/synod.

The Synod is for everyone, and is meant to include everyone - believers, non-believers, the marginalized, the poor, etc. All are welcome to participate and talk about how the Church is living out its communion, participation, and mission.

Please join and actively participate in this process as we journey together guided by the Holy Spirit!

Growing in Faith

This week is the oh so familiar story of the Prodigal Son. Never one of my favorites, it has nothing new to say to me...until I encountered a poem which begins:

*When he returned a second time,
the straps of his sandals broken,
his robe stained with wine,
it was not as easy to forgive.*

Yes, of course - there was second time, and maybe a third or fourth. It's not as easy to forgive a second time. It's not as easy to reject a second time either.

I find myself thinking about the older son in the parable. While the father seems to have the gift for forgiveness and no appetite for rejection, the older son has hardened his heart against his brother. Perhaps he could not help but do so. It's a challenge to love without limits. Yet to reject his brother means turning away from their loving father. That doesn't feel right either.

It's a challenge to reject without limits. This story suddenly feels familiar, not because it's oft-heard but because it's often lived.

Standing in the shoes of the older son, what's called for here? I'll start with prayer for a softening of my heart toward my brother and for understanding that reconciliation doesn't happen all at once. And I'll rely on hope that even though I'm still a long way off (from reconciliation, from forgiveness), my loving father will catch sight of me and come running.

Thomas Dorsey Bio and the History of Precious Lord

For the past several weeks, we have been playing the soulful spiritual, Precious Lord, Take my Hand by Thomas Andrew Dorsey as our Lenten meditation piece. Thomas (1899-1993) was born in Georgia and grew up entrenched in the blues and jazz idioms of the day. A composer of hundreds of jazz and blues songs, it was gospel music that spoke to him on the deepest level.

In 1915, he moved to Chicago where he had a successful career as a jazz musician. After recovering from a severe illness in 1926 he became an active member of the Pilgrim Baptist Church in Chicago and served as the church's choir director for forty years.

Precious Lord was conceived at one of Dorsey's lowest moments when his wife, Nettie, died while giving birth to their first-born son. After he buried his wife and son, Thomas was overcome with grief and anger at God. "I didn't want to serve Him anymore or write gospel songs," he later recounted. One evening he went back to the piano and remembered an old melody from his boyhood by George Allen (1812-1877) with the text Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone. He arranged this hymn with his inimitable style and added his own words, and this is how Precious Lord came to be. The tune eloquently captures the grief that not only Dorsey was experiencing but of anyone who has suffered a significant loss.

Precious Lord has been recorded numerous times by many famous artists including Elvis Presley, Mahalia Jackson, Roy Rogers, and Tennessee Ernie Ford. It was also a favorite of Martin Luther King Jr. and sung at the funeral of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Coming This Spring—St. Gertrude Composting Program

Dear St. Gertrude Compost and Garden Team,

With the promise of warmer temperatures this week, it is time to start thinking about spring and our parish compost and garden projects. I think we had a great year last year and am hoping that many or most of you will return to be involved again this year.

We have some new changes with our compost program this spring. Last year, we had many people drop off their compostable goods; so many in fact that it required a huge labor-intensive effort to move the material from one bin to another bin to speed along the breakdown process. And while Grace and Paul were very helpful in getting us started, they both work full time jobs and manage their own composting project at St. Gregory, so they were often not available.

So, I have decided to go with a different system that is more user friendly and will produce compost at quicker pace. We have purchased a compost tumbler that is actually a large steel drum on its own stand that is totally self-contained with a removable door (for loading and unloading of compost materials), air vents and drainage units, and a gear driven spin handle. Simply spin the handle five times before loading your material, and five times afterwards and you are done! This unit is also impermeable for city wildlife to enter which is very important since we are close to an alley. I highly suggest going to www.mantis.com for more information and watch a short video demonstration.

Because of this new system and the fact that we need to make a few revisions to our Do's and Don't's lists, I think it might be wise to set up a Zoom meeting with our group so I can better inform you of the coming changes and answer any of your questions. This will probably be on a Saturday morning in the near future. We hope to get this system up and running by mid-April.

We sincerely hope you will participate in our project again this year and of course we eagerly welcome any newcomers. Email me at mcbarker@stgertrudechicago.org if you have any questions.

Lenten Faith Activities Planned

All are invited to participate in some Lenten devotions.

Almoners Program: These groups will meet on Mondays during Lent at 9:00 am and/or at 6:30 pm in the church for a brief prayer. Participants will then go out to be more compassionate to the less fortunate by giving alms of $10 McDonald cards. If you are not able to join us on Mondays, we will have McDonald's cards available in the back of church for you to take and distribute to the needy.

There will be a second collection to support the purchase of the McDonald's cards used by the Almoners program each weekend during Lent.

Stations of the Cross: Every Friday during Lent, we will take time from our busy schedules and reflect on the suffering journey of Christ and others in the world.

On Friday afternoons at 3:00 pm, we will offer the traditional Way of the Cross and at 6:30 pm we will we also have Stations of the Cross - joining Jesus' journey, recognizing the present struggles and crosses that challenge our modern world.

Anti-Racism Discussion Groups: Small prayer and discussion groups will be meeting in the morning and evenings using the book The Spiritual Works of Racial Justice, by Patrick Saint-Jean, S.J. These groups will offer us the opportunity to see that by taking on an anti-racist position we become all that God calls us to be. A sign-up sheet is available in the back of church.

Please email Father Mike at mgabriel@stgertrudechicago.org or Maria Garcia at the Rectory office at stgertrude1420@stgertrudechicago.org if you would like to sign up or need more information.

Little Black Books of Lenten Reflections and parish prayer cards are available in Church.

Heart to Heart February Update

Thinking Globally Acting Locally in February with Heart-to-Heart!

In addition to responding to local needs, the Lending Closet collaborated in February with Margaret Okodua, a nurse from Rogers Park. Margaret arranges shipments of donated medical equipment and supplies to Home of Mercy & Peace in Uromi, Nigeria. A refuge for formerly homeless, abandoned, or isolated seniors, HMP is a pastoral initiative of the Catholic Bishop and Diocese of Uromi, managed by the Sisters of St. Louis.

Thanks to your generosity and donations from our local community, Heart-to-Heart has an abundance of certain items. On a frigid February night, a group of stalwart St. Gert's volunteers loaded two cars full of surplus walkers, commodes, and crutches for Home of Mercy and Peace.

A heartfelt thank you to those volunteers, and to all who make such generosity beyond our borders possible.

The Scrutinies/Introduction to the RCIA Group at St. Gertrude

Over the next two weekends at one of the Sunday Masses, the RCIA group will undergo the Scrutinies, where they will be examined about their own desires to turn away from sin and embrace the gospel of Jesus. These Rites invite all of us “old Catholics” to do the same in our lives, as we share the common goal of being ready for the celebration of Easter. We are so pleased they are a part of St. Gertrude and ask that you keep them in your prayers during these final weeks of Lent.

Below is an introduction to one of our RCIA companions, Patricia Sullivan, who is helping guide the group's journey.

Hi, my name is Patricia Sullivan and I recently finished a Master of Arts in Pastoral Studies at the Catholic Theological Union in Chicago. My ministry focus is on incarceration, the criminal justice system and restorative justice. I am a lead volunteer at the Archdiocese of Chicago Kolbe House Jail Ministry, doing in jail service, as well as accompanying men released after incarceration. I am an active participant in the Catholic Prison Ministries Coalition and the Catholic Mobilizing Network organizations.

I joined St. Gertrude during COVID and feel privileged to be a companion on the RCIA journey this year. I am a Minister of Care in St. Gertrude's Heart to Heart Ministry, as well as a participant in the Peace and Justice Ministry. For me growing in faith is a lifelong process moving us to continual and constant development, advancing in spirituality, coming up against social justice issues, and taking action towards improving conditions in our society.

Why is the RCIA Dismissed?

After the homily, those participating in the RCIA, their sponsors, and members of the RCIA team are dismissed from mass to engage in reflective discussions that are meant to deepen the knowledge of God through connecting the scripture readings, the homily, and our lived experiences.

The RCIA has been gathering since September to learn about the faith and our sacred traditions in preparation for the sacraments of initiation that will take place at the Easter Vigil Mass on Holy Saturday night.

Please keep the RCIA group your prayers.
