Depending on the application, you can get broadcast-quality unicast or multicast video distribution in multiple SD and HD formats.

Eden Tech is offering cutting-edge IPTV systems / solutions to meet the needs of the different sizes and industries in the hospitality market, such as hotels, hospitals, ships, residential areas and many others.

Networking

We provide solutions for Data Center, Server rooms, Storage networks, Switches, Routers, Firewalls media converters and value added professional services. We also implement wireless LAN and IP Telephony solutions on turnkey basis. Our Wireless LAN solutions integrate seamlessly into an existing network enabling mobility and increasing productivity quickly and cost effectively with high level of security.

Our dedicated technical team works closely with customers to meet their demands with 100% satisfaction and reliability.

Automatic Gate Barrier System

An automatic gate barrier system mainly consists of an electric gate motor which can either be a swing gate or sliding gate. It supplies the power to open and close the gate automatically. A radio signal is sent from a transmitter in your vehicle to a receiver box that is mounted near the gate. The receiver is wired to control box and activates a circuit that moves the gate opener arm. The gate can then be closed in a variety.

Audio/Video Intercom System

Communications to your gate or door is essential for total security and convenience. The Audio/Video intercom system is very convenient for verification and identification of person requesting entry and can range from a single door audio unit to multiple doors video systems. Video entry systems have the added advantage of visual verification before allowing access through releasing door locks.

Multi-unit intercom system is disclosed in which a plurality of remote stations can be signaled from a common station.

Access Control & Parking Mgt.

Eden Tech's Access Control systems protect buildings and systems from unauthorized access, organize room use, flow of personnel, and movement of records. We integrate smart and durable products efficiently in systems and processes. UST brings in latest technology to the market, yet modular; that provides security of investment for a long term.

Our product line also include integrated Parking Management Systems, allowing building owners to manage their parking infrastructure with the help of revenue, technical and statistical reports.

EXCELLENT
OUTSTANDING
EXCEPTIONAL
FRIENDLY

These are the four focuses on which we are laying the foundation of our corporate culture.
