

Girl power.

We all dream of changing the world when we're little girls.
And we still dream. Now, we can do.

We can be superheroes—empowering women to make a positive impact on the world and on the future of transportation; embodying grace, strength, intelligence, passion, and inventive thinking; envisioning a future where acceptance, respect and advancement is commonplace.

We're supportive, passionate and proud to be a part of the WTS community and a Champion Corporate Partner of WTS International.

"This meeting brings together the brightest, most intelligent, powerful, supportive, nurturing, women in the transportation industry. We attend tours, keynote addresses and technical sessions to learn how to communicate better, lead more effectively, collaborate, advance ourselves, think outside the box, grow, promote, and prove we can do more. I'm so energized when I leave the conference, I feel like I could take on the world."
