

Train. Study. Persevere. Repeat.
It's a Knight thing.

What's it take to inspire a desire to reach and then surpass a personal best?

What's it take to fuel a thirst for knowledge. A will to succeed?

Imagine what it would be like not to worry about paying for Books.

A place to sleep.

Food on your plate.

Imagine studying and working and striving every day to be better, faster, stronger, smarter.

What's it take to remove the worry that will allow an everyday champion to thrive, strive and more than survive, not only in academics, but in their chosen sport?

YOU.

Simple really. It just takes you. Your heart. Your generous spirit. Your loyalty to a place that made a difference in YOUR life.

What kind of impact will YOU have?

Go ahead. Give a little. Do something good for an everyday champion. You'll feel good. They'll feel great.
