THE Coalition Of Resident Councils

Per our articles of incorporation, THE CORC has been established to improve the Quality of Life for residents of Nursing Homes and Assisted Living Communities through the creation, support and promotion of enhanced activities, programs and environments.

THE CORC is also available to provide support services to local resident councils to enhance their organizational structure and independence.

THE CORC Connection

There are over 16,000 Nursing Homes in our country, and more than 24,000 Assisted Living Communities, most are for-profit businesses. Activity department budgets are low; services and programming needs for activities are in high demand. THE CORC wants to get you connected.

Under Federal Nursing Home Law (regulations), the Resident Council has powerful rights to organize and make independent decisions, which affects their quality of life.

THE CORC is a national clearinghouse that collects and distributes information designed to empower residents and consumers through their residents councils. THE CORC is organized through their Resident Councils to promote the advocacy of better and more choices in programming services, as well as to assist in the dissemination of promotional announcements from specialized concerns to vendors to better augment and promote independence in funding choices.

All donations will assist in enhancing the Quality of Life for residents and their activity programs. For example, a tax deductible donation of $1,000 will pay for a couple of bus trip outings for your local nursing home residents. Going out to a local restaurant will enhance their quality of life. A donation of $500 will assist with musical performers coming in to the facility to entertain the residents.

Objectives

- To increase public awareness of Resident Councils within nursing homes and assisted living communities on the National level.
- To work cooperatively with Resident Councils to develop fundraising strategies within their local community.
- To actively solicit donations, supplies, discounts, grants and money.
- To develop, promote and support members of resident councils in their decision making process when it comes to empowering their status within their facility.
- To educate and establish Resident Council organizational standards, providing leadership opportunities within their facility.

Please consider a financial donation today!

THE CORC is a tax-exempt public charity with IRS 501 (c) (3) status.
