Mighty Hekate, Queen of the Witches,
Blessed am I,
To call myself one of your chosen.
Mighty Hekate, Queen of the Witches,
You are both the dark and the light,
You are the way, And You are the light along it.
My Queen, You hold the keys of all creation.
Mighty Hekate, Queen of the Witches,
I stand before you in this liminal space,
That you created for us alone.
Here in this place of the in-between,
I feel the energy of the worlds,
I see the vision of the future,
I hold the wisdom of the past.
Mighty Hekate, Queen of the Witches,
You have bestowed upon me the power of the Witch.
Through the gifts of Your sacred keys,
I am the walker between the worlds,
The spinner of the web of fate,
The knower of Your secrets,
The student of Your mysteries,
The giver of Your healing.
Mighty Hekate, Queen of the Witches,
My journey is a blessed one,
Each key you give me unlocks great power,
Grateful I am for all your keys;
The key of acceptance for that which I cannot change,
The key of courage to overcome adversity,
The key of compassion for myself and others,
The key of pain through which I discovered my own strength,
The key of suffering in which I found healing,
The key of peace that brings me contentment,
The key of wisdom so that I may live a life of truth.
Mighty Hekate, Queen of the Witches,
My witches' journey is a blessing,
Through the darkness of the underworld,
Up to the heights of the heavens,
And the balance of everyday life.
Through all situations, I honor You.
In all ways, I honor You.
For all of time, Eternal Queen, I honor You.
