

PRAYERS TO HEKATE

By Cyndi Brannen, PhD

Introduction

This volume contains all the prayers that I've offered to Hekate on The Keeping Her Keys blog since it began in October, 2017 up until January 18, 2017. I'll keep adding to this collection as I write new ones. Eventually, this will be published as a collection of prayers.

This special preview edition is exclusively for members of the Keeping Her Keys community as a way of expressing my gratitude on the occasion of the Facebook page reaching 1000 likes and followers. All of you Keepers bring me inspiration every day. I truly feel that I am just a voice for the powerful movement I call Modern Hekatean Witchcraft.

When I started to write the Keeping Her Keys blog on Patheos Pagan near the end of October, I thought that I could contribute something to the discussion on devotion to Hekate and witchcraft. I thought maybe a few friends would read it. I was hopeful that I could use my blogs as a way of having meaningful discussions with other devotees and learn from them. However, my words seemed to have connected with many people. From the outset, the blog became one of the top 10 on Patheos Pagan out of over 50 authors. The Facebook page has grown very quickly. I'm honored to be writing about Hekate, witchcraft, and everyday life.

Hail Hekate and Brightest Blessings,

Hail Hekate Soteira,
She who reigns over all creation.
Hail Hekate Pammator,
The Great Mother of all creatures.
I call upon you as Hekate Kourotrophos,
Guardian of Children.

I ask for Your protection over _____ (list the names of the children; do each child one at a time).
May Your light shine before them and around them.
Bestow upon my Your virtues so that I may protect _____ *(child's name).
May I honor You through my relationship with this child.

Hail Hekate Kourotrophos,
Guardian of the Children.

May my gratitude for Your protection over these young lives
Be expressed through every part of my life.

Hail Hekate Pammator,
Great Mother.

Thanks be to You.

Hail Hekate Soteira,
Our Savior.

*As you ask for protection for each child, make an offering in that child's name. I recommend a clove of garlic. Also, you can have a talisman for each child in which you focus your energy and Hekate's, comingling and charging that token. The talisman can be given to the child to wear or carry with them. I also have a talisman on my altar to Hekate for each child that I place under Her care. If you do not have children in your life, you can refer to all children.

Blessed Hekate,

On this new moon,

I offer my gratitude for a new beginning,

Heal me, Paionios, so I may be cleansed of the past, to be born anew.

On this new moon,

I choose compassion, courage, and wisdom from this day forward.

Guide me, Propolos, so I may live such a virtuous life.

On this new moon,

I commit to seeing the light in myself and others,

And to honoring the darkness in others and myself,

Show me, Aregos, so I can see our truths.

On this new moon,

I dedicate myself to using all my talents,

Reveal them in me, Dadophoros , so I can be an instrument of love and healing.

On this new moon,

I seek to stand fully in my power,

Bestow your blessings upon me,

And all your children.

May I be guided by Your wisdom,

Protected by Your strength,

And blessed by Your fierce love.

In Your name, Hekate,

I am free of limitations.

Safe, healed, and whole.
