ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

September 2023 to Present: CEO/Consultant, (Mathew J. Zagami Consulting, LLC)

As of September 2023 I created my own consulting company, Mathew J. Zagami Consulting, LLC, with a d/b/a of "The Center for Teacher and Parent Support". My team of 15 consultants and I are providing professional development and parent engagement services in New York City public and private schools. We have provided numerous workshops specific, but not limited to Quality Review Assessment, Differentiation of Instruction, Classroom Management, Team Collaboration, Parent/Student Rights, Assertive Discipline, Developing Rubrics, Common Core Curriculum Standards, NYS Standardized Testing Program, Danielson's Framework for Teaching, Response to Intervention, Goal Setting, Curriculum Development Across the Grades in addition to over 50 parent workshops.

March 2008 to June 2023: CITE Consultant, (The Center for Integrated Teacher Education)

To date, I have provided numerous workshops specific, but not limited to Quality Review Assessment, Differentiation of Instruction, Classroom Management, Team Collaboration, Parent/Student Rights, Assertive Discipline, Developing Rubrics, Common Core Curriculum Standards, NYS Standardized Testing Program, Danielson's Framework for Teaching, Response to Intervention, Goal Setting, Curriculum Development Across the Grades

I have also provided field supervision for teachers and administrators focusing on many of the items listed in the previous paragraph. Most recently I have conducted "Central LED Reviews" for the New York State Department of Education and New York City Department of Education.

September 2006 to March 2008: Special Assistant to the Superintendent Elmont UFSD

As Special Assistant to the Superintendent, I served as the district's Coordinator of Residency Compliance, District Registrar, Coordinator of Model UN and district enrichment activities, Director of the Transportation Department and District Web Master.

September 1999 to August 2006: Principal, Clara H. Carlson School, (Elmont UFSD)

As Principal of The Clara H. Carlson School I served as the educational leader and principal teacher for a building of 850 children, (Grades Kindergarten to 6). I was also responsible for the daily supervision of a staff of over 80 professionals. Daily responsibilities have ranged from the implementation of New York State Learning Standards and curriculum throughout the grades, to the oversight of construction of a multi-million dollar addition to our building. I also successfully chaired many district committees charged with the task of setting district policies, (i.e. Technology Committee, Job Fair Committee, Megan's Law Committee). I was also responsible for the piloting of five new district programs: "Jazz Master's Workshop", "Reader's and Writer's Workshop", "Backpacker Buddies", and "Project CREST". (All programs involved liaison with the corporate world.) Additional responsibilities were similar if not congruent to those listed below.

September 1996 to June 1999: Principal of Public School 14 Queens

September 1994 to June 1996: Interim Acting Principal of Public School 71 Queens

(Both schools were part of CSD 24 Queens)

As both Interim Acting Principal of PS 71 Q, and appointed Principal of PS 14 Queens, I was/am responsible for the daily operation of schools numbering over 1500 students, and 150 staff members. In particular my duties included, but were not limited to:

- the implementation of curriculum as prescribed by the New York City Board of Education and Community School District 24; with particular attention given to English Language Arts, and Mathematics Standards. (Implications for testing.)
- the supervision of all aspects of Special Education, Inclusion, and Mainstreaming programs.
- school budgeting and finance management.
- the daily supervision of over 150 staff and administrative personnel.
- the management of the physical plants and an annex, (P.S. 14 Q), with specific experience in the areas of school construction and renovation.
- the implementation of a Literature Based Reading program, designed to enhance the literacy skills of a Limited English proficient population, (P.S. 14 Q).
- coordination of various school committees created to foster educational and community goals, (i.e. Leadership Team, Literacy Team, Pupil Personnel Committee, New Compact For Learning Committee, Library Committee, etc.).
- serving as school/community liaison.
- design and coordinate Staff Development activities to help teachers better prepare students for New York City and State Performance Standards.
- the development of a viable technology program at P.S. 14 Q, designed to place computers in both upper and lower grade classrooms in order to assist students in all cognitive areas.
- a specific focus on “the arts”, (drama, dance, music, and art), by retaining staff with expertise in the areas, and creating an “Arts Friendly” environment.
- the administration of the Standardized Testing Program.

September 1990 to June 1994: Assistant Principal of Public School 89 Queens.

September 1985 to September 1990: Interim Acting Assistant Principal at the following Public Schools 81, 88, 71, 89Q; (CSD 24 Queens)

As Interim Acting Assistant Principal of P.S. 81, 88, 71, 89 Q, and appointed Assistant Principal of P.S. 89 Queens, I was responsible for the implementation of many district and school programs:

- Served as Building Coordinator and Committee Chairman of Special Education Main Stream Program.
- Provided effective programming of Staff Development activities in order to sharpen the teaching techniques of staff members.
- Organized programming for NYS Standardized Testing program, for the schools I served in.
- Coordinated spending of allocated funds for textbooks and other building supplies.
- Developed various programs in Computer Literacy for children of grades K-5.
- Served a Bilingual Resource Coordinator for the Italian Bilingual Program at PS81Q.
- Authored several funding proposals for numerous student enrichment activities, (funded).
- Supervised English As A Second Language program for ENL students.
