

We categorize them as 'Proverbs, Parables, Preventive and Renewal Education,' or in short, 'Proverbs, Parables and Positives.' Successful people have long used them to master their frustrations.

You can use the power of truth to self-control the various 'selves' constantly stirring up within you and attempting to impede your progress in life. Managing problems and leading one's life (and that of family, friends, organization, community, and country) is what LEADERS do. You need the right skill set for identity formation and problem-solving.

You want to be equipped before another rainy day in your life or that of family and friends. You don't want to watch helplessly and wish you knew better to help. If you learn problem-solving skills and re-construct your identity, you have just added value to your life.

Then, you will find out that those good young people, and just about anyone else, would want to be friends with you. They know when some- thing about you has changed: Self-worth. Self-value. Self-image. So, instead of wanting to be like them, they want what you've got. Friends are then yours for the choosing!"

Excerpts From: "Identity Formation & Problem-Solving Through Parables, Proverbs, Preventive & Renewal Education." By Dr. Paul E. Momoh

"Say No to Depression.
Bye-Bye to Confusion."

"You Don't Have To Breakdown. We want to help you get around and over your personal challenges.

No matter what you are facing right now; relationship, academic, job/career, finances, or family: there is a way around it, over it, and above it, with problem-solving skills!"

Identity: "Self-worth. Self-value. Self-image"
"Every young adult is a potential leader heading to a pinnacle and the front seat of life. It takes a training-up to get you up.

With the right identity construction and problem-solving skillset, you can master your own frustrations and develop an enduring self-control.

Once up there, your new capacity permits no problem to depress you. You are up there because you learned some powerful, life-changing truth with which to function well in our shared humanity and society.

These nuggets of life and truth are found across all nations and in diverse cross-cultural contexts." [Turn over for more].
