

TIME

By C.E. Warner 9-13-2021

Time exists in simultaneous spheres.

At once both an absolute and abstract.

Allotted quota comes, then disappears.

Human comprehension fails to react.

Universe travels physics' steadfast path.

Planets and mankind share ultimate fate.

Each must face nature's predetermined wrath.

History written, whether small or great.

Wisdom understands today's special gift.

Wasted hours can never reclaim nor save.

The careless unknowingly through life drift.

The foolish wanders, surprised by the grave.

Remembered by others once time finished.

Only character by time not diminished.