

WEATHER

By C.E. Warner 10-28-21

Respect weather wild, earth's ill-tempered child.

He blankets planet, mischief runs gamut.

Broad areas defiled; his efforts reviled.

While gentle breeze fan it in time, dammit.

At once friend and foe, warning status quo.

Houston, have we a problem you must see?

Atmosphere does flow, damage bill we owe.

Weather collects a fee with no guarantee.

Hurricanes rage, tornado winds engage.

Hot and cold to blame, drought and rain both same.

Huge storms power gage, thunder/lightning stage.

Weather's warning came, grave danger to proclaim.

Earth's early warning, weather's informing.

Men's nonconforming, planet in mourning.
