Proposition 25 Defeated by California Voters

“The strength of direct democracy was on display, as the people of the state rejected a law that would have fundamentally failed to meet its stated goals. I've never seen anything like the diverse coalition that opposed Prop 25. That was mirrored in voters' rejection of it. So many people from all around California saw it as unfair, unsafe, and costly -- something that would have taken California's criminal justice reform efforts backwards. This vote cements the importance of citizens’ ability to let their voices be heard on bad laws. Our coalition remains committed to working with Prop 25's supporters to craft meaningful reforms that will bring continued improvements to our courts and criminal justice systems.”
