Sara Sammakia is a contemporary visual artist whose work has propelled her to the forefront of the Modern Pop art scene . Her work is a vibrant and meticulously crafted embodiment of our relationship with consumer culture and our obsession with celebrity, with her finger firmly on the pulse of current popular culture, Sammakia has been dubbed the 'flag bearer for the millennial generation'.

The artist's seminal 'We've All Gone Mad' series is a commentary of the social structures of the digital age. The kaleidoscopic manner, in which Sammakia portrays familiar corporate giants in a hyper-bricolage of imagery, strips the icons of their relevance and confronts our own personal relationships with the mascots, logos and motifs that serve as the make-up of our daily lives.

The craftsmanship and execution of Sara's work is irrefutable evidence of her talent as a painter, and when put into the context of the 21 st Century, the imagery packs a provocative punch. On one hand an homage to the evolving landscape of new age lifestyles and on the other a scathing portrayal of the sins of the modern world.

As Sammakia's career has evolved so too has the demand for her work. Her portraiture commissions of a host of celebrities has seen her work adorn the walls of some of the most famous stars today, whereas sell-out appearances at art fairs and an auction sale at Christies, London, fetching above the estimate, prove that this young and ambitious artist is steadily heading towards an exciting and lucrative career.

Playful and unapologetic, Sammakia's visual language dismantles our preconceptions of Western ideals and the American dream.

If I had a world of my own, everything would be nonsense. Nothing would be what it is, because everything would be what it isn't. And contrary wise, what is, it wouldn't be. And what it wouldn't be, it would. You see? We've all gone mad here.

Alice's Adventures in Wonderland
- Lewis Carrol

just because visually the paintings are playful, fun and young doesn't mean that they aren't holding important messages.

I've often been described as being similar to a cartoon in the way I act, express myself, and look...

which I take as a compliment.

What did you want to be when you were 10 years old?

A mermaid.

My fascination with art began with watching cartoons ,I grew up watching a lot of Disney films and I used to see how excited and happy they would make people ... the energy I would feel from people was so deep so I thought I would use these well-loved characters to imitate our every day modern life.
