Responsible Gaming Policy

Last updated: July 31, 2026

HealthyLineups LLC is committed to the protection of our Users and promoting responsible fantasy sports gameplay as a policy of customer care and social responsibility. We recognize that our games are fun and like many other forms of entertainment, should be consumed in a responsible manner.

- General.
- This Responsible Gameplay Policy ("RGP") describes the various tools and resources available to our Users to ensure responsible gameplay.
- We may update our policies at any time, which updates shall be effective immediately.
- The RGP is integrated into the Terms of Service, and is a part of such Terms of Service as if fully restated therein.
- RGP Control Tools.
- Account History. Users have access to a comprehensive account history feature. This feature provides detailed records of all gameplay activities, transaction history including deposits and withdrawals, time spent playing on various time scales, graphical representations of gameplay patterns and spending trends, and an option to download account history for personal record-keeping.
- Various Self-Limitation Options. We offer a range of self-limitation tools to help Users manage their gameplay responsibly. These options include deposit limits, where Users can set daily, weekly, or monthly limits on the amount they can deposit into their account; net spend limits, allowing Users to set maximum net spend thresholds for specified time periods; and session time limits, enabling Users to set maximum durations for individual gameplay sessions. Additionally, Users can opt for cool-off periods, temporarily suspending their account access for periods ranging from 24 hours to 30 days. Entry fee limits are also available, allowing Users to set restrictions on the amount they can spend on entry fees within a specified time frame. All these self-limitation options are easily accessible through the User's account settings. Any decreases in limits or increases in restriction levels take effect immediately, while any easing of restrictions requires a waiting period to prevent impulsive decisions. Increases to any limits, or removal of restrictions, take effect only after a cooling-off delay of at least 24 hours. We encourage Users to use these tools proactively to maintain control over their gaming activities.
- Experts League Promotion & 2-Week Max Loss. HealthyLineups may permanently promote sustained winners from casual paid contests into ExpertLineups (Experts League) contests and requires each user to set a 2-week max loss limit before paid contest entry. Unless a different threshold is published in the App or required by law, users are promoted out of casual paid Contest eligibility when either (a) they reach one hundred dollars ($100) or more in net profit from paid Contests during a rolling twelve (12) month period, or (b) their annualized profit pace reaches that same threshold after a published minimum sample of paid activity. Users may also self-identify as expert competitors on the Account page. Profit/pace/known-shark promotion does not cool off if rolling results later fall. While ExpertLineups contests launch, users may continue participating in free Contests. If a user's net loss from paid Contests over any rolling fourteen (14) day period reaches the self-selected 2-week max loss limit, paid contest access enters a temporary cooldown for that account until the user's rolling fourteen (14) day paid-Contest net loss falls below the selected limit. During the cooldown, users may continue participating in free Contests where available. This max-loss cooldown is not a permanent paid-contest closure. These controls are intended to preserve balanced casual competition and support responsible play; they are not tax advice and do not determine whether winnings are taxable or reportable.
- Deposit Limits. Users can set daily, weekly, or monthly deposit limits on their accounts. Any decrease in limits will be effective immediately, while increases will only take effect after the previous limit period has expired.
- Time Limits. Users can set limits on the duration of their gameplay sessions. The system will notify Users when they approach their set time limit.
- RSG Control Tools Access.
- Control Tools. The access control tools described below are available if your gameplay may have become, or is at risk of becoming, problematic and you may take advantage of access control tools through Account Settings or by contacting support@healthylineups.com.

- Taking a Break. Please contact us with your request and for options.
- Self-Exclusion. Users may self-initiate a break through Account Settings. If a User cannot access Account Settings, the User may contact support@healthylineups.com.
- Permanent Closure. Users may self-initiate Permanent Closure through Account Settings. If a User cannot access Account Settings, the User may contact support@healthylineups.com.
- Cooling-Off Periods. Users can request short-term breaks from gameplay, ranging from 24 hours to 30 days, during which they cannot access their accounts.
