

Teaching & Faith

Let's discuss adapting curriculum, engaging students, and guiding spiritual decisions.

Sharing the gospel, teaching Bible stories, and leading individuals through salvation, baptism, and church membership are what churches do best. Our special needs ministries are fully equipped to do the same; it may just look a little less structured and unconventional.

Questions

- What are some ways to teach throughout class?
- What are ideas to engage students who are blind? Deaf?
- What could you say that's less abstract than, "Let Jesus in your heart?"
- How can you modify a lesson point so that each of your students understands and can apply it to their lives?
- What tools and ideas will help students move to and learn in large groups?
- How do you know if a student has trusted Christ?
