Dear Friends,

Community Alliance for Drug-Free Youth (CADFY) is a nonprofit substance abuse prevention organization working in collaboration with individuals, agencies and organizations to bring parents, youth, schools and communities together to build and promote safe and healthy communities. Drug trafficking goes hand in hand with trafficking of persons. CADFY recognizes the need to fight this societal issue and is working as part of the national task force to eradicate human trafficking.

I am proud to learn of the many accomplishments that have led you to where you are today. I would like to extend my support and encouragement to Bikers Against Trafficking for being on the frontlines defending victims of human trafficking day in and day out. In partnership with United for Human Rights you were also able to educate thousands, both the victims and general public, about the fundamental rights each person has, hence building the foundation for empowerment and awareness our society needs.

Thank you for leading the charge to end human trafficking. I am confident you will continue making a difference in the lives of others and I extend my best wishes to you in all your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

John Redman
