CRAVING PARADISE: THE KEY WEST FOOD & WINE FESTIVAL RETURNS FOR JANUARY 2027 WITH A GLOBE-TROTTING CULINARY JOURNEY

KEY WEST, FL — The Southernmost City is gearing up to transform into a vibrant, sun-drenched stage of coastal indulgence and world-class flavor. Organizers have officially announced that the Key West Food & Wine Festival will return from Wednesday, January 27 through Sunday, January 31, 2027.

Unfolding during the island's most spectacular winter weather, the five-day celebration will bring together acclaimed chefs, master sommeliers, and beverage innovators for an immersive journey across iconic island backdrops—including Duval Street, the Historic Seaport, and the Truman Waterfront.

This year's centerpiece experience features an ambitious international concept: "5 Continents ~ 5 Wines ~ 5 Stories ~ 5 Chefs ~ 5 Dishes." Guests will be taken on a sensory tour of global gastronomy, highlighting everything from the rugged, fire-roasted traditions of South American Patagonian Lamb paired with high-altitude Argentine Malbec, to the aromatic fusion of a South African Cape Malay Curry paired with a bold Stellenbosch Pinotage.

"The 2027 festival is all about celebrating culture, art, food, and wine through storytelling," said Mark Certonio. "We are moving beyond standard tastings to give our guests a true sense of place—blending casual, barefoot elegance with impeccable culinary execution."

The 2027 festival lineup includes a curated mix of neighborhood hot spots, VIP experiences, and fan-favorite anchor events:

Ticket & Attendance Information: Tickets for individual events and exclusive VIP Experiences are on sale now. Please note that all festival events are strictly for adults aged 21 and over; pets and strollers are not permitted. Because the culinary teams strive to maintain the strict integrity of these carefully designed menus, substitutions (including vegetarian and vegan alternatives) cannot be accommodated for flagship showcase dinners.
