

Cherry Sundae™ PPAF

Hibiscus syriacus, cv. Cherry Sundae™, rose-of-sharon / althea

Features

- Flowers on Cherry Sundae™ are highly variable in flower color arrangement and shape from day to day.
- Cup shaped in spring, and mostly ruby red with a shallow rim of white, however, variable as summer heat increases.
- Less cup-like and more flattened or shallow saucer-like as temperatures increase and white increases and ruby red decreases, but the color reverses as temperature cools during fall.
- Foliage is rich dark green throughout the season, including leaves, stems, sepals, and flower buds not yet showing flower color.
- Form is an irregular, mostly upright shrub, eventually reaching five feet or more.
- Cherry Sundae™ provides an ever changing array of flowers and foliage.

Carl Whitcomb, Lacebark Research, Stillwater, OK