

IRWA Georgia Chapter 22 Incoming Chapter President

A Leadership Opportunity to Prepare, Grow, and Lead the Future of the Chapter

The Incoming Chapter President serves as a key leadership partner to the current President and Board of Directors while preparing to assume the Chapter's highest volunteer leadership role. This position helps ensure continuity, succession planning, and long-term chapter success. The Incoming President works closely with leadership to learn chapter operations, support strategic initiatives, and remain familiar with the President's roles and responsibilities for a seamless future transition.

Why This Role Matters

Serving as Incoming President provides the opportunity to:

- Prepare for future service as Chapter President
- Gain valuable executive leadership experience
- Learn governance, strategy, and chapter operations firsthand
- Build relationships locally, regionally, and nationally
- Help ensure leadership continuity and chapter growth

Key Responsibilities

The Incoming President supports the Chapter by:

- Attending Board meetings and leadership functions
- Assisting the President with chapter priorities and initiatives
- Performing the President's duties in their absence, as assigned
- Supporting implementation of chapter goals and succession planning
- Staying informed on bylaws, policies, and governance standards
- Collaborating with Board members and committee leaders
- Completing additional assignments that strengthen chapter operations
- Preparing to assume the President role with confidence and readiness

Leadership Expectations

A successful Incoming President is:

- Dependable and ready to lead when needed
- Collaborative and team-oriented
- Eager to learn chapter governance and operations
- Strategic in thinking and solutions-focused
- Committed to service, professionalism, and growth

Meetings & Engagement

The Incoming President is encouraged to attend Board meetings, membership meetings, leadership events, and industry gatherings that support development and visibility.

The Opportunity

This is more than a support role; it is the pathway to future chapter leadership and a chance to help shape the next chapter of success.
