

BareHanded Adventures

Around The World

Barehanded Adventures is an Hour-Long Docu-Reality Series.

The show takes viewers on an educational journey into the uncharted corners of our world's unknown tribes.

Follow along as the host blends in and learns from unseen cultures.

Each episode will cover a myriad of topics ranging from navigating extreme temperatures to discovering unspoken rites of passage.

COMPS

Tribe vs. Pride

Primal Survivor

New Zealand: Welcome and Wonder

People from other countries

Prejudice

An adverse judgment or opinion formed beforehand or without knowledge of the facts.

The only way to diminish prejudice is education. The more we learn about other cultures, better we can understand and accept each other.

We came a long way from days of slavery to woman rights to vote, to equal rights for all. However there is more to conquer.

Our show is about other cultures and their way of living. As the viewers enjoy the content, we hope to create and promote a social change on how we see others.

The Host

Bulent Gurcan was introduced to TV in Discovery Channel's Naked and Afraid series. After successfully completing his 21 Day Challenge in his second attempt, Bulent was chosen for Naked and Afraid XL, 40 day challenge in the deserts of South Africa.

Bulent was paired with other survivalists in the challenge. In an attempt to find his own destiny, Bulent left his partners behind and decided to take on the challenge on his own after a mere nine days. Bulent skillfully completed the challenge by himself. He managed to harvest seven catfish, the smallest being eighteen pounds, three monitor lizards that were around four feet, yielding twenty five eggs, two terrapins, yielding twenty eggs, and a rabbit. He was named BareHanded Killer.

His tenacity, vision, and hardwork paid off. 30 days alone in the deserts of South Africa. He is known as the lone survivalist.

Bulent highly relies on his past experiences. Growing up in a third-world country gave him valuable lessons on how to survive and catch his own food. Migrating to the US on his own, joining the Army, becoming a war veteran, fighting against drug smugglers on the southern border as a Border Patrol Agent and Customs and Border Protection Officer over a ten year period, gave him experiences that serve him under a variety of conditions and situations.

THE SHOW

What would you do if you woke up tomorrow completely alone? How would you feel if you traded places with Will Smith in I am Legend, no stores to shop or buy groceries , no internet to search for ideas, no Prime? How would you survive without modern society? How would you compete with wildlife for food? How would you build a shelter that can withstand the winter for New England?

Amish manage a life style that is simple and maintain self-sufficiency. We are going to take survival a step further, nudge wilder into bare human existence.

We went from being able to obtain everything we need from nature to not being able to live without social media. There are thousands of primitive tribes around the world. They make do with what they have in nature. How do they preserve food without refrigeration? How do they make their homes without Home Depot. Which doctor do they see'll when sick?

Bulent will travel around the world to join these resourceful survivors. He will live with them, hunt with them, build with them. The show will bring a side of these tribes that has never been seen; their successes, their failures, their struggles. Bulent will unwrap the secret to each of their uniquely different primitive life styles.

Episodes

- Chukchi People, in Arctic Ocean within the Russian Federation.
- Ni-Vanuatu People in the South Pacific Ocean.
- Dani People of western New Guinea.
- Drokpa Tribe in India.
- Himba Women Namibia.
- The Terena people of Brazil.
- Inuit people of Alaska
- Nomads of Mongolia.

THE VISION

One might see a picture of the Serengeti with a water hole to quench your thirst, a white baneberry might look irresistibly delicious, or a cave on a rocky mountain may seem like a good place to spend the night – to most these are great ideas until you speak with a local.

You would soon discover the water hole has more bacteria than you could imagine and will give you Dysentery among other diseases. The white baneberry is fatally toxic to most mammals, potentially causing cardiac arrest on consumption. The cave you thought might be a safe spot is home to a mountain lion with five cubs who will do anything to protect her young.

Humans cannot run fast, cannot see in the dark, and simply cannot overpower most predators. When left in survival situations, we have little chance, if any, at all. Barehanded Adventures will teach us, not only, how these primitive tribes live day-to-day, it will take us on a journey where money, social media, and possessions are meaningless.

Contact Us

Bulent Gurcan
&
Tonia Kempler

Bellementertainment@gmail.com

917-655-8509

