MICRO, MINIATURE AND SMALL ORCHIDS

PSYCHOSIELLA / ONCIDIUM LIMMINGHEI

Origin: Brazil

Temperatures: Hot to intermediate growing small size creeping orchid species

Light: Bright shade

Watering & fertilizing: Regular watering and fertilizing year-round, letting dry between waterings

General care: Easy to grow as far as you let them completely dry out between waterings! Very unique creeping growing habit with attractive mottled leaves and stunning large blooms. Grows best under warm to hot conditions, in bright shade, with good air movement. Due to its growing habit these should be grown always mounted, and without any moss! It appears that old pseudobulbs and leaves will die off at some point, but there are always new growths branching from different spots of the mother plant. It really does hate any over water and will die quickly if kept too wet. Perfect plants for windowsills, greenhouse growing and outside year-round in proper zones.
