SYNOPSIS

Gail, a beekeeper, concerned with her decreasing bee population, has little time for the woes of her daughter, Sarah, a turkey farmer who has just left her cheating husband, and even less time for her tenant farmer, Earl, who has a free-wheeling attitude toward sex and relationships. Add to this fractious mix Ben, a young, athletic university student also keen on understanding bee populations, and everyone is about to get a big lesson in pollination...if you know what we mean!

REQUIREMENTS

Please prepare a 1-2 minute monologue. You may also be asked to do a cold-read from the script, so it is best to familiarize yourself with the show. Please bring a copy of your resume and headshot to the audition. Callbacks will consist of scenes from the show, performed in groups. We ask that you be available for the full time period so we have a chance to experiment with different pairings/groupings of actors.

Gail	Female, 50's a beekeeper. Divorced and struggling with her declining bee populations. Has old fashioned views about sex after 45, or sex at any age, it seems.
Sarah	Female, 30's Gail's daughter. Recently split from her cheating husband, but still works their turkey farm.
Earl	Male, 50's an old friend of Gail's who now is her tenant farmer. Also divorced, he has a new affinity for "no-strings-attached" relationships  Plot note Gail and Earl are each divorced because Gail's ex-husband ran off with Earl's ex-wife. Resentments still linger.
Ben	Male 20's fit and athletic, a biology student working on a project to study bee populations, Eager and very naïve.
