

Recruitment Stall Ideas

- Face painting/eco glitter/tattoos - fun fundraiser and a great way to engage families and always popular at big events like Pride. Search 'face painting'
- Parachute games - if you have lots of space, why not run regular parachute games. Split volunteers to run the game and others to talk to waiting parents
- Pioneering - have fun making a structure or small-scale models
- Giant games - Jenga, noughts and crosses, snakes and ladders, giant chess, skittles, marble runs
- STEM - astronaut training, flight/wind-themed activities, marble runs, etc
- Female role models - highlighting female role models, including former members of guiding, asking people who their role models are, dressing up and photo frames
- Planting projects - vegetable or flower seeds in pots as a community action project
- Running a donation point - social action in action and an opportunity to raise the fact our charity is a powerful force for good
- Photoboosts - grab some themed props and get snapping
- Trails - setting up a trail around an event site
- Fundraisers - raffles, human fruit machine, tombola, games
- First response demo - this was a fun theme demonstrating one of the important life skills girls and volunteers learn through guiding
- Crafts - masks, friendship bracelets, mural, badge making, craftivism
- Camping - camping skills, welly throwing, marshmallows, camp activities, race into sleeping bags, funny songs
- Photo album - show case guiding through photos
- Sports - sports event themed e.g. Olympics, world cup, rugby or pick sport(s) to theme the stall around
- Working through a badge - pick a badge theme and offer a taste of guiding
- Girls voice - girls attitude, surveys, Girls Can, etc
- Fairground games - hook a duck, hoopla, shooting goals, lollipop boards
- Archery, target shooting
- Narrow boating - with narrow boat/water themed activities
- Competitions to take home and enter e.g. story writing, community action, drawing, quiz
- Where on the map? Ask visitors where on the map they were involved in guiding and start a conversation

For more help and advice contact: mgr@gghw.org.uk

Helpful Hints for Recruitment

Purpose

Planning

Person-to-Person

Post Event