Girls Save The World™ Announces 2027 Global Youth Summit in North Texas

Three-day experience will bring together youth, educators, industry leaders, public leaders and change makers to turn purpose into action.

DALLAS, TEXAS — October 11, 2026 - Girls Save The World™ (GSTW) will bring its Global Youth Summit to Dallas, Texas, April 22–24, 2027, at Astoria Event Venue, creating three days of leadership, innovation, life-readiness, culture, music and real-world problem solving for the next generation.

Powered by the Campus of Purpose-OS™, the Summit moves beyond the traditional youth conference. Students will explore hands-on Innovation Hubs, connect with mentors and industry leaders, develop solutions to real-world challenges, and discover how their interests and skills can become pathways to purpose and impact.

The 2027 experience will include:

- LeadHERship™ Conversations in The Sandbox — interactive conversations that bring public policy, civic leadership and community issues closer to young people, giving students space to ask questions, explore perspectives and understand how their voices can help shape their communities.
- The AmplifyHER™ Culture Conversation: Voice. Influence. Impact. — bringing together influential voices from entertainment, media, business, sports and culture to explore how the next generation can use its voice, creativity and influence for good.
- Campus of Purpose-OS™ Innovation Hubs — immersive, hands-on challenges where students move from Ask → Imagine → Plan → Build, connecting leadership, STEAM, careers and purpose.
- Life, Series™ Experiences — practical conversations around money, personal brand, mental wellness, relationships, life readiness and what comes next.
- AmplifyHER™ Music Fest — a celebration of music, creativity and youth voice, including the return of singer-songwriter Camille K.
- One Earth. One Purpose.™ — expanding the Summit's community and service impact through a collaboration with Rotary Districts North Texas.

"Students don't just need another event where adults tell them what their future could look like," said Chonnie Richey, Founder and CEO of Girls Save The World™. "They need a place to ask questions, build something, meet the people doing the work and see themselves in what comes next. The Global Youth Summit is where purpose moves into practice."

The three-day Summit will culminate with student showcases, pitches and the AmplifyHER™ Music Fest, celebrating the ideas, voices and possibilities of the next generation.

The Girls Save The World™ Global Youth Summit takes place April 22–24, 2027, in Dallas, Texas, at Astoria Event Venue.
