"Mark Nelson began his formal education in the arts in the Republic of Panama where he was mentored in painting and live theater. Nelson continue his studies at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago completing a BFA and an MFA at the University of Illinois in Chicago. Nelson created interdisciplinary public installations for several decades to physically and conceptually engage his audiences. His work is often described as socially conscious and satirical. Many of Nelson's project byproducts, constructions and paintings can be found in private and public collections, including a canvas mural at the US Embassy, Republic of Panama. Nelson has also participated in a variety of public projects such as the 1999 Cows on Parade, Lighthouses on the Mag Mile and the embellishment of sculptural forms in Chicago's Greektown. Mark Nelson been awarded numerous grants and fellowships as an artist and educator from the Chicago department of Cultural Affairs–Office of Fine Arts, Illinois Arts Council, the Golden Apple Foundation, and the Oppenheimer Family Foundation. Mark Nelson is a permanent resident of Chicago's historic Pilsen neighborhood and arts community where his Gringolandia Studio and home has been open annually to the public in participation with the 18th Street Pilsen Open Studios."
